BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 760, as follows:

An Act to provide for the leasing and releasing of land owned by the Commonwealth within the beds of streams lakes and other bodies of water wholly or partly within or forming part of the boundary of this Commonwealth except such land under the navigable waters of the Delaware River and its navigable tributaries conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Water and Power Resources Board requiring lessees to establish an amortization fund for improvements placed or erected upon such land granting certain preference and exemption rights to municipalities of the Commonwealth and prescribing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the following words when used in this act shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section except in those instances where the context clearly indicates a different meaning.

"Association" means a partnership limited partnership or any other form of unincorporated enterprise owned by two or more persons

"Board" means the Water and Power Resources Board of this Commonwealth

"Municipality" means a city borough town township or county of this Commonwealth

"Person" means a natural person association corporation or municipality Whenever used in any clause prescribing and imposing a fine or imprisonment or both the term "person" as applied to associations shall mean the partners or members thereof and as applied to corporations the officers thereof

The singular shall include the plural and the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter

Section 2 On or after the effective date of this act it shall be unlawful for any person to encroach upon any land which is part of the bed of any stream lake or other body of water wholly or partly within or forming part of the boundary of this Commonwealth and which is owned by the Commonwealth without first obtaining from the Board a least for the use and occupancy of such lands provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to apply to any land which is part of the bed of the Delaware River and its navigable tributaries between the headwaters of navigation at Morrisville Pennsylvania and the boundary line between this Commonwealth and the State of Delaware at Marcus Hook Pennsylvania

Section 3 Any person desiring to use and occupy any such land shall file an application for a lease with the Board The application shall be made under oath or affirmation on a form prescribed prepared and furnished by the board and shall set forth the name of the applicant his business address an accurate description of the land desired to be leased the physical condition of the land the purpose for which the land is to be used and occupied and such additional information as the Board may require either by general rules and regulations or by specific request If the Board is satisfied that the granting of the lease will not be against the public interest it shall grant a lease to the applicant upon the terms and conditions in this act In granting leases under this act the Board shall give preference to applications therefor by municipalities

Section 4 Leases granted by the Board under this act shall be granted for a period not exceeding fifty years except that municipalities may be granted leases for the term of their use and occupancy of the land. Each lease shall require the payment by every lessee other than a municipality of a rental payable in advance and reasonably commensurate with the value of the land for leasing purposes which shall be fixed by the Board In the event the applicant desires to develop or place or erect improvements upon any land leased under this act the Board shall fix a time within which the development or placement or erection of improvements necessary for the use and occupancy of the land shall be completed to an effective point and in every such case the lease shall contain a provision that it shall become void unless the lessee effects such development or improvements within the time fixed by the Board Every lease may contain such other conditions as the Board may deem necessary for the protection of the public interest Any lease granted under this act may be revoked by the Board for nonpayment of rentals and for noncompliance with any of the terms of the lease or any of the provisions of this act

Section 5 After the twentieth year of any lease if it shall so long continue in force every lessee except a municipality shall set aside an amortization fund based upon the actual legitimate cost of permanent improvements placed or erected upon the land by the lessee at a rate to be approved by the Board For such purposes the Board is hereby authorized and directed to determine for each lease the actual legitimate original cost of all permanent improvements placed or erected on lands leased under the provisions of this act and of all additions to and betterments thereof

Section 6 Upon the expiration of the term of a lease whether fifty years or less the Board may grant a least for the same land to the same lessee or any other applicant In every such case the Board shall give preference to applications by municipalities If the lease of such land is not granted to the same lessee the new lessee shall pay to the former lessee an amount equal to the actual legitimate investment in the developmnt of or the improvements placed or erected on such leased land less an amount for depreciation and less the amount of the amortization reserve as of the date of the termination of the lease Whether the lease shall be granted anew to the former lessee or to some other applicant the annual rental fixed by the Board shall be based on the same kind of value as for the original lease plus the amount of such amortization reserve and the setting aside of the amortization reserve shall be continued until it together with proper depreciation reserves shall absorb the entire cost of the development of or the improvement placed or erected on the leased land

Section 7 No voluntary transfer of any lease or of the rights granted thereunder shall be made by any lessee without the written approval of the Board and any successor or assignee of the rights of any lessee shall be subject to all the conditions of the lease

Section 8 The Board is hereby empowered to hold hearings subpoena witnesses perform any and all acts make and enforce such rules and regulations and issue such orders not inconsistent with this act as it may deem necessary and proper for carrying out the purpose of this act The Board is also empowered to require all lessees under to act to make such reports keep such accounts and give such information at any time as the Board may deem proper for carrying out the provisions and purposes of this act

Section 9 Nothing in this act shall be construed to abrogate in any way whatsoever any title right or interest the Commonwealth may have in any part of the bed of any stream lake or other body of water wholly or partly within or forming part of the boundary of this Commonwealth which was encroached upon by any person prior to the effective date of this act and which is now used and occupied by such person

Section 10 All rentals and other moneys collected or received by the Board under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue and credited to the General Fund

Section 11 Any person who shall hereafter encroach upon any land which forms part of the bed of any stream lake or other body of water wholly or partly within or forming part of the boundary of this Commonwealth which is subject to the provisions of this act and which is owned by the Commonwealth without obtaining a lease for the use and occupancy of such land as required by this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) or not more than One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) or to undergo imprisonment for a term of one year or both in the discretion of the court

Section 12 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

(c) The settlement of a person in a poor district continues until a new one is acquired in this State or elsewhere A settlement is lost only by acquiring a new one

(d) Except as hereinafter otherwise provided every adult and every emancipated minor whether married or single legitimate or illegitimate may acquire a new settlement in any poor district of this Commonwealth by coming bona fide to establish a permanent abode therein and continuing to reside therein for one whole year if such person or minor is of sufficient mental ability to make a bargain and is not or does not become a public charge during said year

(e) The settlement of a married woman during coverture follows that of her husband and continues after his death in the district where he was last settled but she may thereafter acquire a new settlement for herself If the husband has no known settlement then she is settled whether he be living or dead in the district where she was last settled The settlement of a woman After divorce absolute or from bed and board or desertion by the husband or withdrawal by the wife from cohabitation with the husband on account of his cruelty inebriety or lack of support continues in the district where the husband was last settled but she may acquire a new settlement for herself

(f) A minor whether legitimate or illegitimate cannot be amancipated before age sixteen and becomes emancipated absolutely at age twenty-one if then of sufficient mental ability to make a bargain After age sixteen and before age twenty-one a minor of sufficient mental ability to make a bargain may become emanicipated by his own acts or the acts of the parent stepfather or stepmother having had the custody When a person is emancipated he or she is capable of establishing a new settlement

(g) A minor whether legitimate or illegitimate who is so mentally deficient as to be unable to make a bargain cannot be emancipated after age sixteen and such a person does not become emancipated at age twenty-one and so long thereafter as said mental condition continues The settlement of such a person shall at all times during mental disability be ascertained as provided in clauses (h) and (i) of this section for the settlement of minors not emancipated

(h) Before emancipation the settlement of a legitimate minor is and remains that of the father unless

(1) The father is dead and the mother acquires a new settlement in which case it follows that of the mother or

(2) The father deserts his family in which case it follows that of the mother or

(3) The mother withdraws from cohabitation with the husband on account of his cruelty inebriety or lack of support in which case it follows that of the parent having the custody or

(4) The parents are divorced either absolutely or from bed and board in which case it follows that of the parent having the exclusive custody but where custody is divided between the parents the settlement remains that of the father or

(5) Both parents are dead and the minor is in the custody of a stepfather or stepmother in which case it follows that of the stepfather or stepmother having the custody

(i) Before emancipation the settlement of an illegitimate minor at all times follows that of the mother and in case of her death before emancipation of such minor continues in the poor district in which she was last settled until such person established a new settlement after emancipation

(j) If a person has no known settlement in this Commonwealth and cannot for any reason whatever be removed into the State or country where settled he shall have a quasi-settlement in the poor district where he or she becomes a public charge which district shall be liable for his or her support

(k) If a person becomes a public charge in a poor district other than the one in which settled such district shall be liable for support until the district of settlement is discovered and removal to such district takes place but the poor district of settlement shall be liable to the district in which the person became a charge for the amount of relief advanced costs and the expenses of removal

Section 2 That section eight hundred and one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 801 ORDER OF REMOVAL In case any person shall have no settlement in the district wherein he has become or is likely to become a public charge it shall be the duty of the directors as soon as may be to notify the directors of the district of his settlement of the facts [and from the time of such notice the cost of his relief shall be charged to the district of his settlement] If the directors so notified refuse or neglect to receive him or to make arrangements for his proper support and maintenance and to pay the amount of relief advanced the directors furnishing such relief may apply to the court of quarter sessions of their county or to any judge thereof by petition asking for a citation to the directors so refusing or neglecting requiring them to appear before such court at a time specified therein and show cause why an order should not issue for the removal of such person into their district. The said court shall proceed to hear and determine the cause upon its merits and their decree shall be final unless an appeal therefrom be taken with thirty days

The citation herein provided for accompanied by a copy of the petition shall be served by the sheriff of the county who may for that purpose deputize the sheriff of the county of the respondent upon one or more of the directors named therein or with the approval of the court service may be had by sending such copy by registered mail and shall be served or mailed at least ten days before the day fixed for such hearing Provided That upon the hearing and argument before said court of quarter sessions of said citation for an order of removal of paupers from one district to another it shall be lawful for either of the parties to the issue to except to any decision of the court upon any point of evidence or law which exception shall be noted by the court and filed of record as in civil cases and an appeal to an appellate court may be taken by either party from the judgment or decree of the court with like effect as in civil cases

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. KRAUSE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1470, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1472, as follows:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred seven) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes and in cities coextensive with counties for city and county purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment and collection of the same providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes" as amended by exempting interest bearing accounts in any bank or banking institution savings institution or trust company from taxation under the provisions of said act

Whereas Senate Bill number three hundred two act number forty approved April twenty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three which amends the law imposing taxes at the rate of four mills on intangible personal property exempted from said tax interest bearing accounts in any bank banking institution savings institution and trust company and

Whereas The intent of the Legislature in passing said legislation was to leave interest bearing bank deposits non-taxable and

Whereas It is now alleged that the exemption of bank deposits from the four mills tax imposed by counties and cities coextensive with counties enables the State to tax said deposits and to hold banking institutions liable for said tax and

Whereas The Legislature is of the opinion that if such tax can be collected from banking institutions the right to so collect said tax existed prior to the passage of said act number forty and that the failure of the State heretofore to collect said tax is conclusive evidence that no such right to tax existed in the State and

Whereas By its passage of said act the Legislature intended to entirely exempt from taxation interest bearing accounts in all banks banking institutions savings institutions and trust companies and did not intend by said law to simply shift the collection of said tax by the county from the individuals to the State from incorporated banks and

Whereas It is the sense of the General Assembly that if such an interpretation is placed on act number forty it will establish its unconstitutionality for three reasons

First That only the deposits in the incorporated banks would be made taxable and that those in private banks would be exempt and that a classification of bank deposits based on the place where the deposit is made would be invalid and the law would be unconstitutional as offending section one article nine of the Constitution which requires taxes to be uniform on the same class of subjects

Second That if said law be interpreted so as to make deposits in the incorporated banks taxable then it is a taxing measure and becomes unconstitutional under section six article three which requires the subject of an act to be clearly expressed in the title because the title gives notice only of the exemption from taxation of said deposits and not of any intent to tax said deposits

Third That if said law be interpreted as authorizing the imposition of a tax on bank deposits then said law must be construed as a revenue measure and that it then becomes invalid since it originated in the Senate because section fourteen article three of the Constitution requires all bills for raising revenue to originate in the House of Representatives therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of the act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred seven) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes and in cities coextensive with counties for city and county purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment and collection of the same providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Act number forty) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all personal property of the classes hereinafter enumerated owned held or possessed by any person persons copartnership or unincorporated association or company resident located or liable to taxation within this Commonwealth or by any joint-stock company or association limited partnership bank or corporation whatsoever formed erected or incorporated by under or in pursuance of any law of this Commonwealth or of the United States or of any other State or government and liable to taxation within this Commonwealth whether such personal property be owned held or possessed by such person or persons copartnership unincorporated association company joint-stock company or association limited partnership bank or corporation in his or her their or its own right as active trustee agent attorney-in-fact or in any other capacity for the use benefit or advantage of any other person persons copartnership unincorporated association company joint-stock company or association limited partnership bank or corporation is hereby made taxable annually for county purposes and in cities coextensive wtih counties for city and county purposes at the rate of four mills on each dollar of the value thereof and no failure to assess or return the same shall discharge such owner or holder thereof from liability therefor that is to say

All mortgages all moneys owing by solvent debtors whether by promissory note or penal or single bill bond or judgment all articles of agreement and accounts bearing interest all public loans whatsoever except those issued by this Commonwealth or the United States and those made taxable for State purposes by section seventeen hereof all loans issued by any corporation association company or limited partnership created or formed under the laws of the Commonwealth or of the United States or of any other State or government including car-trust securities and loans secured by bonds or any other form of certificate or evidence of indebtedness whether the interest be included in the principal of the obligation or payable by the terms thereof except such loans as are made taxable for State purposes by section seventeen hereof all shares of stock in any bank corporation association company or limited partnership created or formed under the laws of this Commonwealth or of the United States or of any other State or government except shares of stock in any bank corporation or limited partnership that may be liable to a tax on its shares or its capital stock for State purposes under the laws of this Commonwealth or relieved from the payment of tax on its shares or capital stock for State purposes by the laws of the Commonwealth all moneys loaned or invested in other States Territories the District of Columbia or foreign countries all other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of the State all stages omnibuses hacks cabs and other vehicles used in transporting passengers for hire except steam and street passenger railway cars owned used or possessed within this Commonwealth by any person or persons or by any corporate body or bodies all annuities yielding annually over two hundred dollars Provided That this section shall not apply to bank notes or notes discounted or negotiated by any bank or banking institution savings institution or trust company nor to loans shares of stock or other securities held by bankers or brokers solely for trading purposes nor to accounts or debit balances owing by customers of bankers or brokers in the usual courses of business nor to interest bearing accounts in any bank or banking institution savings institution or trust company And provided That the provisions of this act shall not apply to building and loan associations or to savings institutions having no capital stock and if at any time either now or hereafter any persons individuals or bodies corporate have agreed or shall hereafter agree to issue his their or its securities bonds or other evidences of indebtedness clear of and free from the said four mills tax herein provided for or have agreed or shall hereafter agree to pay the same nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to relieve or exempt him it or them from paying the said four mills tax on any of the said such securities bonds or other evidences of indebtedness as may be held owned by or owing to the said savings institution having no capital stock And provided further That the provisions of this act shall not apply to fire companies firemen's relief associations life or fire insurance corporations having no capital stock secret and beneficial societies labor unions and labor union relief associations and all beneficial organizations paying sick or death benefits or either or both from funds received from voluntary contributions or assessments upon members of such associations societies or unions And provided further That corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations liable to tax on capital stock for State purposes shall not be required to make any report or pay any further tax under this section on the mortgages bonds and other securities owned by them in their own right but corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations holding such securities as trustees executors administrators guardians or in any other manner shall return and pay the tax imposed by this section upon all securities so held by them as in the case of individuals And provided further That none of the classes of property made taxable by this section for county purposes and in cities coextensive with counties for city and county purposes shall be taxed or taxable for any other local purpose or for State purposes under the laws of this Commonwealth And provided further That the provisions of this section shall not apply to personal property of the class hereinabove enumerated hereafter received from any person or persons copartnership or unincorporated association or company nonresident in or not located within the Commonwealth or from and joint stock company or association limited partnership bank or corporation formed erected or incorporated by under or in pursuance of any law of the United States or of any state or government other than this Commonwealth and not doing business within this Commonwealth by any person or persons copartnership unincorporated association company joint-stock company or association limited partnership bank or corporation as active trustee agent attorney-in-fact or in any other capacity for the use benefit or advantage of any person or persons copartnership or unincorporated association or company nonresident in or not located within this Commonwealth or for the use benefit or advantage of any joint-stock company or association limited partnership bank or corporation formed erected or incorporated by under or in pursuance of any law of the United States or of any state or government other than this Commonwealth and not doing business within this Commonwealth

It is the intent of this act to exempt from taxation all interest bearing accounts in any bank banking institution savings institution and trust company for any purpose and by any governmental unit whatever and this act shall not be construed as imposing any tax under any other section of the act to which this is an amendment or any other law and hereafter the Commonwealth shall have no power to impose and collect any tax on interest bearing accounts in any bank banking institution savings institution or trust company under the authority of any other section of the act to which this is an amendment or under any other law

Section 2 This act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-three but its provisions shall not preclude the collection of any tax assessed on accounts exempted from the provisions of this act for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three or any previous year

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George F. Conner, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, accept our profound gratitude for the light and joy of another day. Shed forth Thy blessed spirit of light and truth, richly upon our Speaker and members of the House as they pursue the tasks appointed them today. May they be Thy willing servants in the outworking of Thy plans for the Commonwealth.

Thou hast said, "As thy day, so shall thy strength be." May this promise be fulfilled in us this day. Make us strong in mind, and viril in body that we may carry on, and bring to a propitious ending the work we have been assigned to do.

Vouchsafe Thy grace to rest upon His Excellency, the Governor, the honored gentlemen who preside over the General Assembly, members of the ouse and Senate and all others charged with the governance of the people. Keep us all faithful to the high trust reposed in us, and crown our labors with good success. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

AMERICAN LEGION
LINCOLN POST No. 73
SHAMOKIN, PA.

Shamokin, Pa., April 21. 1933.

Hon. Ollie Powell, State Legislature, Harrisburg, Penna.

Dear Ollie:—

I have been instructed by my Post, representing almost 700 World War veterans, to write you stating that if you fellows don't soon get down to business and get some action on the Beer and Relief Bills, there will be such an uprising in this State that the people will come down to Harrisburg and throw the whole bunch out.

Yours very truly,

LINCOLN POST No. 73, AMERICAN LEGION,
R. E. McKEEVER, Post Adjutant.

Resolved, That an item be inserted in the General Appropriation Bill to pay the expenses of said Committee

Resolved That said Committee shall make report of its findings accompanied by such drafts of legislation as it deems necessary to the next Session of the Legislature

RESOLUTION

URGING HOUSE TO REMAIN IN SESSION

Mr. JOHN J. KANE offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, April 27th, 1933.

Whereas, the objective of the General Assembly now in session at the time it convened was to extend—

Relief to the corporations threatened by an increase in taxes unless State expenditures were reduced.

Relief for the victims of involuntary unemployment.

Relief from exorbitant rates and unfair utility practices for the utility rate payer.

Relief for the local taxpayer committed by legislation to expenditures that cannot be decreased except by legislative action.

Relief for the workers of the State, who have been made the victims of short weight at the mines, unfair treatment in company towns, unfair prices imposed by company stores, unfair practices made possible by reason of loopholes in the workmen's compensation laws, and intolerable working conditions and wage returns imposed by sweatshop employers, and

Whereas, the General Assembly, through legislative action has so far definitely planned only to extend relief to the corporations which pay State taxes, by reducing the cost of State government, and has tentatively planned to provide relief for the victims of involuntary unemployment and has not as yet provided the measure of relief to which the other interests enumerated are entitled, and

Whereas, the House of Representatives has given evidence of its constructive and sympathetic interest in a broad program of humanitarian legislation having passed House Bill 925—the minimum wage bill—by a vote of 182 to 0, and having passed the anti-yellow dog contract bill by a vote of 188 to 0 and having approved by a vote of 180 to 12, of the submission of the old age pension issue to the people, and having passed House Bill 408 (Anti-Eviction Bill) by a vote of 158 to 3, and having in other ways demonstrated its willingness to sponsor and support a broad, constructive humanitarian program, and

Whereas, No further action has been taken upon the humanitarian measures passed by the House of Representatives, and

Whereas, It is alleged by various responsible leaders that the General Assembly must necessarily adjourn before such action is taken, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives express its willingness and intention of remaining in session until the essential legislation it has enacted is returned to it either as passed by this House or as amended or until informed that such legislation has been indefinitely postponed and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Senate for its information, and to the representatives of the press with the request that it be transmitted to the people for their encouragement.

RESOLUTION

JOINT COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE INSURANCE

Mr. HUTTON offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules.

April 27, 1933.

Whereas, Charges have been made of improper practices in the Insurance Department with respect to the doing of business by casualty and fire insurance companies inadequately financed, and with respect to the merger of certain companies and their withdrawal from the State Treasury of assets deposited for the protection of insured persons; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall appoint three Senators, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three Members of the House of Representatives, who, together, shall constitute a joint legislative committee, whose duty it shall be to investigate the affairs and records of the Insurance Department relating to casualty and fire insurance companies, to ascertain whether certain companies are permitted to do business in this Commonwealth when inadequately financed and to ascertain whether mergers or consolidations of casualty companies approved by the Department have been made in accordance with law, and whether securities withdrawn from the Treasury Department, if any, after any such merger or consolidation, have been legally withdrawn;

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers records, or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases;

Resolved, That said committee shall make report of its findings to the next session of the General Assembly.

(MR. HUTTON IN THE CHAIR)

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2321 (Senate Bill No. 1033), entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws two hundred two) entitled "An act providing for the licensing and regulation of motor boats operated or navigated upon any public stream artificial or natural body of water or nontidal waters of any river within the Commonwealth conferring powers and imposing duties on certain police officers and the Board of Fish Commissioners including the enforcement of certain existing laws and prescribing penalties" by requiring such board to be equipped with effective mufflers.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire if there is anyone in the House who can explain the provisions of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, inquires whether there is anyone who can explain the provisons of the bill.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, I will attempt to explain the purpose of the bill.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would inquire whether this bill has the approval of the Board of Fish Commissioners.

Mr. HEWITT. In answer to the question of the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, I would like to say that this bill has the approval of the Board of Fish Commisisoners, requiring that mufflers be placed under the water.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I notice that according to the title on our calendar, it requires that the Board of Fish Commissioners be equipped with effective mufflers. I would like to know what kind of mufflers they are going to use.

Mr. HEWITT. I believe they intended to muffle the boats rather than the Fish Commissioners.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2319 (Senate Bill No. 894), entitled:

An Act to repeal an act approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws six hundred twenty-seven) entitled "An act providing a method for preventing any elector from depositing in the ballot box, at primary, municipal, general or other elections, any ballot other than that received from the election officer; and imposing penalties."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill repeals the act which was passed here two years ago. I feel that this is a step in the wrong direction. If there be any changes made in the election laws they ought to be in the other direction. Right thinking men and women for many years have tried to improve the election laws of Pennsylvania. I know how difficult it is to draw up an election code that will be water tight, that will prevent fraud, and I doubt whether such a code is possible, but we should at least preserve such safeguards as we have been able to secure during many years of effort. I feel that the ballot box is the fountain head of all free government; it is the fountain head of democracy, and unless we can keep that fountain head pure your government is going to be permeated with the crookedness that arises out of election scandals.

I hope the members of this House will vote down this bill.

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House as I understand this bill is to repeal the act which provided that the ballots be numbered in the upper left hand corner. We have used this law for two years and we find instead of being a safeguard that it works just the other way.

In the first place every voter after marking his ballot deposits it in the ballot box, and if he does not tear off the perforated left hand corner containing this number, his vote is invalid. Now, that is bad enough, that man has not been able to vote because he failed to tear off the perforation, and it also would under the act lay him open to a penalty.

I don't know what thought was behind the passage of the bill originally. If it was to prevent chain voting, of course, it has not done that. It has only added to the confusion of election boards. We are in favor of safeguards in the City of Philadelphia, but we feel that this bill has caused a great deal of confusion. As a matter of fact I have in my ward a city official who is in charge of election violations, and who himself deposited a ballot in the box without tearing off this stub. When it was called to his attention he said he had no idea that he was compelled to tear it off. For these reasons we felt that this act should be repealed. I don't believe that any great harm can come by restoring the ballot to its original form incapable of identification because there is no number on it. We have thrown safeguards around our elections and we believe there is a minimum of fraud, compatible only with the weakness of human nature. We don't believe that this act helps to purify the election, and therefore, I would ask that the bill be passed.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections on the part of the House the Chair would like to return to bills on final passage recalled from the Governor, which were not on file this morning. The Chair understands that they are now on file. The Chair hears no objection.

The Chair would like to clear the calendar with respect to these bills as well as bills on second reading, and we can then adjourn until Monday night.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 566, as follows:

A Supplement to an act approved May sixth one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws ninety-nine) entitled "An act to amend section seven of the act approved the fifth day of March one thousand seven hundred and ninety-one (three Smith's Laws six) entitled 'An act to enable the Governor to appoint Notaries Public and for other purposes therein mentioned' prescribing the form of notary seal" by providing that the presence of the arms of this Commonwealth on the seal of a notary public reappointed after the effective date of the act to which this is a supplement and prior to the effective date of this act shall not invalidate said seal or the notarial acts instruments or attestations authenticated by such seal

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the seal of any notary public reappointed after the effective date of the act to which this act is a supplement and prior to the effective date of this act on which seal there is engraved the name surname the words "Notary Public" and the location of the office of the notary using the same shall be a valid and legal seal during the term for which he or she was reappointed notwithstanding the fact that in addition thereto it has engraved thereon the arms of this Commonwealth and all the acts instruments and attestations of such notary authenticated by such seal shall be as valid and binding as though the arms of this Commonwealth were not thereon

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 731, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to Mrs. Anna Kinsley of Philadelphia for moneys erroneously and inadvertently paid into the State Treasury

Whereas William Kinsley of the city of Philadelphia was committed as an indigent to the Philadelphia Hospital for Mental Diseases on May twenty-ninth one thousand nine hundred and nineteen and part of his maintenance cost was charged against and borne by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and

Whereas The said William Kinsley was the recipient of a Federal Pension and the Commonwealth Insurance and Trust Company of Philadelphia guardian of said William Kinsley paid to said Commonwealth by way of reimbursement on June fourteenth one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three the sum of four hundred and fourteen dollars ($414.00) and

Whereas Anna Kinsley the wife of the said William Kinsley was at the time and is now in needy circumstances and the Commonwealth feels that by reason thereof the payment to it hereinbefore referred to has worked a hardship upon the said Anna Kinsley therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of four hundred and fourteen dollars ($414.00) is hereby specifically appropriated to the said Anna

Kinsley wife of William Kinsley of the city of Philadelphia to refund to her moneys which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania collected from her said husband's estate for maintenance and which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania afterwards felt and now feels should have been applied by the guardian as aforesaid to the maintenance of the said Anna Kinsley

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1884, as follows:

An Act to amend section one thousand three hundred one and section one thousand three hundred sixteen as amended of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by increasing the requirements to obtain teachers' certificates and the qualifications to teach in public senior high schools or to hold official positions of higher rank

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one thousand three hundred one of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1301 Every teacher in the public schools of this Commonwealth must hold a [provisional professional or] State certificate which shall set forth the branches which its holder is entitled to teach and which shall be issued as herein provided but no teacher shall teach in any public school in this Commonwealth any branch which he has not been properly certificated to teach

On and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six no State certificate shall be granted to any person unless such person has successfully completed a four year course in a first grade high school or its equivalent followed by a four year course of not less than one hundred and twenty semester hours including professional studies and practice teaching in a State normal school State teachers' college or an accredited liberal arts college or college department of an accredited university as the case may be

Every teacher in the public senior high schools of this Commonwealth and every person holding official positions of higher rank must hold a college permanent certificate or a college provisional certificate Provided That the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to any person now qualified and teaching in any public senior high school or holding any official position of higher rank who is not the holder of a college permanent certificate or a college provisional certificate

Section 2 Section one thousand three hundred sixteen of said act as amended by section one of the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand forty-one) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1316 The Superintendent of Public Instruction may grant a provisional college certificate to every person who presents to him satisfactory evidence of good moral character and of being a graduate of a college or university approved by the College and University Council of this Commonwealth who has completed such work in education as may be approved by the State Council of Education and who in addition thereto shall have devoted one year after such graduation to practice in teaching and school management in high schools of this Commonwealth approved for the purpose by the State Council of Education under the joint supervision and guidance of the principal of such high school and of the education department of the college or university in which the candidate has pursued his undergraduate studies During such period of training each candidate shall be paid such compensation by the school district maintaining such high school as in the opinion of the board of school directors shall be necessary to pay the living expenses of such candidate Provided That until the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six provisional college certificates shall be granted as heretofore

The Superintendent of Public Instruction may also grant a provisional college certificate to every person who presents to him satisfactory evidence of good moral character and of being a graduate in music with the degree of bachelor of music of a college or university approved by the College and University Council of this Commonwealth who has during such musical course completed the prescribed number of hours of professional studies which certificate shall entitle him to teach for three annual school terms

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1588, as follows:

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2339 (Senate Bill No. 785), as follows:

An Act to amend section fifty and section two hundred and twenty as amended of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred forty-eight) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland awters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" by permitting and regulating the use of eel chutes

Whereas The eel (Anguilla rostrata) is a catadromouns fish going down stream in the fall of the year to spawn in the depths of the ocean and

Whereas It does not feed nor bite at bait while on its downward migration and therefore cannot be caught by any device now legal in Pennsylvania and

Whereas after having left our streams the same eels never return to them thus resulting in a permanent economic loss to our citizens and

Whereas The eels which go with legal protection down our streams and are caught by fishermen in other states and regions below Pennsylvania are shipped back to us at high prices and

Whereas To permit our own fishermen to catch them while on their downward migrations would provide food and occupation for many of our citizens therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section fifty of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred forty-eight) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary ricers of the Commonwealth" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 50 DEVICES TO CATCH GAME-FISH AND BAIT-FISH No person shall use any device means or method whatso ever except a sin this article otherwise provided for taking fish from the waters within this Commonwealth except the following that is to say for

(a) Game fish two rods and two lines and one hand line with not more than three hooks attached to either line

(b) Bait-fish two rods and two lines with not more than three hooks attached to each line a dip net or minnow seine not over four feet square or four feet in diameter a minnow trap with not more than one opening which shall not exceed one inch in diameter The rods hooks and lines must be under the immediate control of the person using the same

(c) Eels in rivers of this Commonwealth in addition to such rods and lines eel chutes from the first day of August to the last day of November in each year Sundays excepted but only from four o'clock in the afternoon to eight o'clock in the morning on such days when a special license therefor in additino to the regular fishing license has been first secured Eel chutes to be lawful shall not have any wings of netting of any kind or any cloth or wire netting but shall be constructed of wooden slats or lath which shall not be closer than one-half inch in the bottom Eel chutes shall not be more than five feet long and the width of entrance of an eel chute shall not be more than ten feet A metal tag issued at the time the special license is secured shall be scurely fastened to the eel chute in a conspicuous place

No wings walls of stone or other material shall be constructed for more than three-fourths of the distance across any river The heads of no two wing walls when constructed side by side shall be closer together than a distance of twenty feet.

All eel chutes must be kept free of rubbish and all game fish found therein must be immediately returned to the water of the river uninjured

During the hours of each day and on Sunday when the operation and use of eel chutes is not legal under this section a portion of the bottoms of such chutes shall be removed to facilitate the unobstructed passage of fishes

Section 2 That section two hundred and twenty of said act which was amended by section one of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred fifty-one) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 220 RESIDENT FISHING LICENSE FEES For the purposes of this article every sixteen years of age and upward upon application to any county treasurer within the Commonwealth or to the Department of Revenue and the presentation of proof that he has been a bona fide resident of this Commonwealth for a period of thirty days preceding his application and was born in the United States or was fully naturalized under the laws of the United States shall upon the payment to the county treasurer or the Department of Revenue of a license fee one dollar and fifty cents for the use of the Commonwealth and in the event that the license is issued by a county treasurer a fee of ten cents for the use of the county treasurer be entitled to the license herin referred to as "A resident fishing license"

Upon the making of an application by any person to the Department or county treasurer for a special license to catch eels by the use and operation of eel chutes and the payment of a fee of one dollar for the use of the Commonwealth and tn cents for the use of the county treasurer where application is made to him such person shall be entitled to a special eel chute license and a special metal tag which shall give him the right to use and operate an eel chute in the Susquehanna river below the northern boundary of Berwick on the north branch below the bridge at the Northumberland-Lycoming County line on the west branch in the Juniata River below Mount Union and in the Delaware River below Easton in accordance with the provisions of this act

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 904 (HOUSE BILL No. 67

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the committee on Pensions and Gratuities be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 67, Senate Bill No. 904, entitled: "A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section seven, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania," enacted April 4, 1933, said bill having been in the hands of said committee for more than five days, having been referred on April 5th, 1933.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the motion, or resolution, be referred to the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his point of order.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, there is no resolution before this body. A motion has been made by Senator Shapiro, and properly seconded, and it is not within the province of the Chair to refer this to a committee. It is not a resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The point is well taken by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris. The question is on the adoption of the motion made by Mr. Shapiro.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, before the Senate votes on this motion I desire to call the attention of the Senate to the effect of the motion. This motion refers to the bill which was referred to the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities, having to do with the question of old age pensions. That bill has been in the Committee, as stated in the motion, since April 5th. The Committee has considered that bill and has held a hearing upon it and has not, as yet, reported it from Committee. During the years, about twenty-four years, that I have been in this Senate, I have never known a motion like this to prevail. If this motion prevails then our form of conducting legislation is wrong. The rules of this Senate provide that all bills shall be referred to committee and by them considered, and if this Senate is going to vote to discharge this committee then our rules are all wrong.

I realize that the merits of this bill are not debatable at this time. I realize that there are a number of members of this Senate who would like to see this bill pass, I also realize that there are a great many members who object to its passage and I submit to the Senate and to each and every member of this Senate that this is not the proper method of legislating a bill of this sort and I ask that the members of this Senate stand by the traditions of this Senate and let us work out these matters in committee and that we do not vote to discharge the committee from further consideration of this bill. I earnestly ask this and I ask each and every member before he casts his vote on this motion to consider the effect of it on future legislation. If we are governed by committees, as we always have been, there is no reason why this rule should be deviated from at this time. I ask the Senators to vote "no" on this motion.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, I do not want to enter into any discussion of the bill, but I think he made a mistake in one of his statements. In his time, I think a Senate committee was discharged, and that was the committee in charge of the full crew bill. That happended in his time and I think he has overlooked it.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, unfortunately I did not understand the remarks made by Senator Salus but I do have this to say upon the motion which is before the Senate. Necessarily the discussion must be limited to the merits of the motion and it may be unfortunate or fortunate, I cannot agree with one word that was uttered by Senator Buckman. He called our attention to the fact that if this motion carried it would break down the traditions of this Senate, which have been established for a long time. Mr. President and members of the Senate, there are times even in the history of the State Senate of Pennsylvania when traditions must be broken and in that connection with this motion, which is now before us, I believe that such time has arrived. I take issue with the Senator from Bucks, when he states that this is a question of the traditions of the State Senate, I believe it is rather a question of traditions of those that have been in control of the political affairs of the State. It may be true that it has not happened before that such a motion was presented, and yet I have some recollection of a time, I believe in 1911, before my time in the Senate, when such a motion was presented, and as I remember it, favorable action was taken upon such a motion. If I am incorrect in this statement I want to call especial attention to the fact that this is not the ordinary issue before the State Senate. Let me call your attention, my fellow members of the Senate, to the history of old age pensions in Pennsylvania. Those of who were privileged to serve your constitutents in 1923, remember very well what happened then. There was a period of great glorification in the State of Pennsylvania. They tell me that in those days, when that old age pension bill was being considered by the Legislature, there was a great deal of ado about it. I understand there were motion pictures taken, I understand that the Governor of this State at that particular time stated quite definiely that the time had arrived when errors of the past should now be corrected, but in my humble judgment this motion now before us does more than determine the question of referring it back to committee, or even of attempting to discharge the committee. To state this very frankly, I believe that a vote against this motion means nothing more than a vote against old age pensions. I assume that what the public press reports is correct. I do know that hearings were held, or at least a hearing, I do know that the fact upon which this motion was presented has not changed since 1921 in the State of Pennsylvania, nor will they change during this last week, as it is said to be, of the Legislature. I believe that it can be quite earnestly said that even now there is something more important that the mere adherence to the rules of the Senate. There has been much talk recently about a motion of this kind, as to whether or not it is the part of wisdom to put those of us who are privileged to be here, as we say in the parlance of the street, upon the spot, on a matter of such importance. Well, as far as I am concerned I will in my deliberation upon this motion still regard it to be proof—and I will abide by that conviction—that because of the history of these two resolutions in this particular committee, that a vote against is a vote against old age pensions. I say, therefore, that the time has come here when we are not called upon to cling so tenaciously to the rules of this Senate, and I realize too that we have read in the Public Press that there have been demonstrations here and there that men perhaps who were wholeheartedly for the proposition, now find themselves in embarrassment because of this motion. This, my fellow members of the Senate, is not a question of politics, it is not a question of tradition, and I want to say, just as I have said before, whenever the opportunity came along that I would very much regret that any move that I should make in the only term of the State Senate, which I hope to enjoy, that would break down the regard of any member of this Senate toward me, I would certainly say that in spite of the fact that the Democratic party, both national and in the State, would want this motion to prevail, and if we limited the outcome of this motion to the mere question of partisanship I want you to know that I am so earnestly in favor of doing anything to get rid of the poor house and to establish in this State some system of old age pension, that I would even risk the regard that my own party leaders might have for me, and I say, therefore, that I do not want to be driven to the point where in the deliberation of this motion I would find myself feeling that the outcome of this vote, insofar as I had a share in it, might lessen the regard of other members of this Senate for me because I am standing now, as my distinguished colleague from Bucks would say, against the traditions of the Senate. But if it had to be, gentlement, I would even risk that much in order to do anything to further the cause of old age pensions. I again say that you are delaying that cause, if this motion does not prevail, and I appeal to my fellow members of the Senate to vote in favor of this motion.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I believe it is within parliamentary procedure to reply to one of the remarks of the Senator from Lehigh. He said that this was the only term that he expects to enjoy. I want to reinforce that sentiment by calling attention to the fact that when he votes, and if he votes "aye" on the motion to discharge the committee, he is thereby imposing upon the treasury of the State a dollar a day for everyone beyond a certain age, and I am sure if he does that he will not enjoy his next session as much as he has this one. It means a dollar a day out of the treasury, remember.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in my short stay in this session I have enjoyed the friendship of so many of the Senators here that I should hesitate to think that this motion would be considered for a moment as a reflection upon any member of the Senate. I offered that motion because in Philadelphia, at least, we were elected on the platform which calls for an answer to the question whether or not we were in favor of old age pensions, and having been elected on that platform I believe it is my duty to try to get an opportunity to vote on the question. I do not think it is a question of tradition because I think those of us who have our eyes open noticed that we are living in an age when traditions are disregarded and the right of the individual to transcend those traditions is recognized. In this particular situation the Senate and House of Pennsylvania have already voted on this question in one session. This comes up again for action in this session and if we do not vote for it now favorably and approve it it will be five years before this question can be brought up again. As a matter of fact the people have something to say about this and we are their representatives. The people of Pennsylvania want an opportunity to vote on the old age pension question. The adoption of this motion and the passage of this amendment does not of itself create old age pensions. The adoption of this motion will put the bill on the floor and the passage of the bill itself will not create old age pensions but it will give the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the right to vote on the question and certainly those who sent us here to represent them have a right to ask that we give them an opportunity to vote on the quesion which is of vital interest to them, and so I only want to say these few words in explanation of the motion and of the fact that I hesitated a long time before I finally, a young Senator here, offered that motion, but I feel that the obligation that we, at least that I, owe to the people whom I represent in my district, is greater than any personal feeling that I may have in offering the motion. As I say it is not a personal question of entirely or of tradition. It is an important question and one which each and every citizen has a right to be asked to be brought in the foreground and not a question of tradition. Our traditions have nothing to do with this question at all. No matter how reluctant we may be to break down traditions, we were elected on the platform which means representation irrespective of tradition, and, therefore, I ask favorable consideration of this motion.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I have heard a lot of discussion about tradition and Senatorial courtesy, of the ethics of the Senate, and I just wondered if the members of this Senate know exactly how this resolution has been treated. It was the Sowers resolution presented in the House. It was sent to the proper committee and when it became obvious that the members of this committee were in favor of reporting out this bill there were added to this committee six new members, and each and every one of the six members absolutely opposed the resolution. I ask the members of the Senate if that is Senatorial or legislative courtesy, if there is anything fair or just about action of that kind. I repeat again about Senatorial courtesy, that I have been a member here for six sessions and I want to say on the floor now what I said during the special session last summer, that I have never seen this, except on one occasion on this floor, when I insisted on a meeting of the Appropriations Committee. The last three sessions not a meeting of the Appropriation Committee has been held. Now I ask you if there was any courtesy in that.

Now again about tradition: These are the days of new deals and new times and everything new and we can say very truthfully that tradition does not teach us to do things that are unfair and if they are unfair then we can overlook tradition. Senator Shapiro has called this a resolution. There is a wide distinction between a resolution and a bill. Senator Shapiro has explained very splendidly that this bill was voted upon, this resolution, was voted upon in the 1931 session. Forty-four members of the fifty voted for this resolution, the same resolution, not the change of a word or the crossing of a "t" or the dotting of an "i" has been changed. Forty-four members, many of them who are still here. Then a number of them during the last campaign made very definite and positive promises that they would support old age pensions and I have on my desk here the signed pledge and promise of many of the members that they would support old age pensions and I think that signing a pledge is binding on them to vote tonight to discharge this committee so that this body will have an opportunity to give these men a chance to make good on their pledges.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, this is not an ordinary bill which is before the Senate tonight. This bill is not one that becomes effective when signed by the Governor or effective on the first day of September. This bill is a constitutional amendment, submitting the question to the vote of the people. I am a Republican and proud of it, but I would not want to see my party make the mistake of denying the right to the people to vote for or against old age pensions. I am not one of those men who signed any pledge concerning this bill or made any promises but I have given this bill most careful consideration and I think it would be a mistake for these Republican members of this body to defeat this motion which has been offered. I have in mind at the same time Senatorial courtesy. Ordinarily I would not vote for the discharge of any committee of this Senate, nevertheless, this committee has no right to withhold from the people their judgment on old age pension, whether it be in the affirmative or the negative. Because of the good feeling and goodwill that has prevailed in this Senate ever since I have been a member of the Sena. I am respectfully going to ask Senator Shapiro, who presented this motion, to withdraw it and at the same time ask a recess of thirty minutes to give this committee time to report this bill to the floor.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I do not know what the parliamentary procedure is, but you have two motions on the floor now and before we go into it any further as to your disposing of this procedure, I would like to make this one statement: Senator Woodward was very much perturbed as to the expense that would be incurred by this bill. I want to bring to the Senator's attention and to the attention of the rest of the members of the Senate this one thought: This is a matter which must be considered or not to be considered by the voters of the State of Pennsylvania. It is for them to finally decide whether they want to stand the burden, if it is a burden, of supporting the old age pension. A lot of persons that have looked this matter up contend this will not be an expense on the State of Pennsylvania but will be a saving. That is a question that will be argued pro and con when the matter comes up for a vote, and this, like every other problem in the present day, ought to be put out before the public and each individual should have the right to cast his vote and if a majority of the people of Pennsylvania, even though they think it is a burden, are willing to "pay the freight," that is their business, and if they decide that they are willing to assume this burden it is their business. I think every man ought to have a right to decide that for himself. So far as I am concerned it would be a pleasure for me to bear my share of the burden.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am perfectly satisfied if the committee wants to act to give the committee an opportunity to consider the matter. Therefore, I am satisfied, that the motion be laid on the table a half hour to give the committee time to act.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, may I suggest to Senator Shapiro that the request be granted predicated on a promise from the Chairman of the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities that there will be called a meeting of the committee.

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, the resolution is still in the hands of the sub-committee. I have just asked the sub-committee if they are ready to report and they say they are not.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I then ask for a roll call on the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The question is on the motion for the discharge of the committee.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the motion be laid on the table.

Mr. FAY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object. There is nothing in order but the calling of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The motion of the Senator from Bucks, Mr. BUCKMAN, is that the motion be laid on the table.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that motion was not made until the presiding officer decided on a roll call.

The PRESIDENT. On the question on the motion to discharge the committee the Clerk will call the roll.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I would like to know which motion we are voting on.

The PRESIDENT. The question on the motion to discharge the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 904. On this question, the Clerk will call the roll.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask for an explanation of the vote.

The PRESIDENT. Those who vote "aye" vote for the discharge of the committee and those who vote "no" vote for the continuance of the consideration of the bill by the committee.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Shapiro and Mr. Harris and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—20

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 1329 (HOUSE BILL No. 1803)

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 1329 (House Bill No. 1803), entitled:

An Act relating to Sunday music; permitting musicians to receive compensation for services rendered on Sunday; authorizing pay concerts to be given and broadcast on Sunday under certain circumstances; and allowing school and certain public buildings and parks to be used therefor; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Public Instruction; and imposing penalties.

was defeated on final passage.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, I voted "no."

Mr. BAUMER. I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BAUMER. Mr. President, I voted "no."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REED. Mr. President and members of the Senate, last week this bill was defeated. I can see no reason for the Senate's changing its position at this time. This bill is simply an opening wedge to break down the Blue Laws of Pennsylvania. It can have no other explanation in itself. The bill is innocent enough, but it is a bill to really break down the ancient Blue Laws of Pennsylvania; and, representing the people of Dauphin County, as I know I do on this measure, I again protest against this bill, and I hope it will again be defeated.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—28

Armstrong,	Frazier,	Owlett,	Snyder,

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO STUDENTS AT UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. WILLIAMSON offered the following resolution, which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

In the Senate, May 1, 1933.

Students in some class or department at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, an outstanding institution of learning in the Nation, have voted, by a substantial majority, that they will "under no circumstances bear arms or go to war." This appears from an editorial in the Philadelphia Record of Wednesday, April 26th, 1933. Said editorial in part is as follows to-wit:—

"Penn students have voted, 322 to 222, that they will 'under no circumstances bear arms or go to war.'"

Without qualifications of any kind they admit willingness to see the Nation that has furnished them with the advantages and opportunities they now enjoy, overrun and destroyed by enemies.

They renounce any obligation to defend the parents who gave them existence, or keep safe and inviolate the homes in which they were reared.

Thy have freely received all they now possess because of the patriotism, bravery, courage and unselfishness of those who thought less of self and more of service to others; and their lives have been made secure through the heroic sacrifices of those in whose veins flowed no yellow blood and who knew no fear.

We hesitate to believe that so many of the future citizens of this Nation would so easily admit a cowardice and a lack of patriotism that is both astounding and degrading, but prefer to believe that the vote was only an expression of immature and childlike judgment.

The public expression of these students should not, however, go unnoticed, and if any among those who voted that in "no case" would they bear arms, are now beneficiaries of the Commonwealth to whom they have publicly renounced allegiance then such benefits should be withdrawn and bestowed upon other more appreciative of the benefits of government and more willing to defend it when endangered, therefore be it

Resolved, That an effort be made at once by the proper officials of the University of Pennsylvania to ascertain if any of those who voted against the honorable defense of home and country are now enjoying a scholarship in that institution through the benevolence of the Commonwealth, and, if any are so found, that the Senator who awarded such scholarship shall forthwith recall the same and award it to one more worthy, and be it

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be at once forwarded by the Secretary of the Senate to the trustees of the University of Pennsylvania, with the request that the Senate be furnishd with the names of those who denied home and country by voting against the defense of either, and be it further

Resolved, That immediately upon the receipt of any information containing the names of these students so voting, that the Secretary of the Senate advise the Senators at whose request such scholarships were awarded, and that thereafter the scholarships of such non-patriots shall be withdrawn by such Senators.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 902 (House Bill No. 22), entitled:

An Act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant-Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers deputies and employes providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commisisons shall be determined.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made therto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President and members of the Senate, this is the famous or infamous—depending on the point of view—Turner Bill, House Bill No. 22, it is called. We all know the enormous stride made in social legislation. We all know that the State has increased its wardship, not only to take care of the criminal classes and delinquent classes, and take care of the defective classes, and tonight we came pretty near taking care of a large dependent class, which we escaped for the time being. Now, I would like to submit to you that two years ago we had a board of charity. The only salary was that paid to the secretary. The other members served without pay, and we all know we made an enormous increase in the Department of Welfare. The Department of Labor and Industry is another example of this increase in social legislation. Now that was all very well up to the time the taxpayer began to object, and we all know the taxpayer has begun to object, and is objecting very strenuously to the expenditures in all the State and in the Federal government to the deflating of governmental costs. In such a long bill there are mistakes. I am also quite aware that this bill will probably be vetoed and not passed over the Governor's veto, but I think the bill ought to pass the Senate and that Mr. Turner ought to be congratulated on deflating the cost of government.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 902 be recommitted to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, if I may say one word more, it seems to me it is a poor way to do, it is certainly not a direct way to recommit the bill. If you do not like a bill, vote against it. If you like it vote for it. But this seems to me to be not an admirable way to dispose of a bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yea sand nays were required by Mr. Harris and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—15

Bennett,	Clark,	Lanius,	Sordoni,
Brandt,	Graff,	Mansfield,	Staudenmeier,
Buckman,	Harris,	Miller,	Thompson,
Chapman,	Homsher,	Pierson,

NAYS—31

Baumer,	Harvey,	Prince,	Snyder,
Boyd,	Howell,	Quigley,	Sones,
Coyne,	Hunsicker,	Reed,	Trainer,
Ealy,	Krause,	Rice,	Williamson,
Einstein,	McClure,	Roberts,	Woodward,
Fay,	Owlett,	Salus,	Ziesenheim,
Frazier,	Parkinson,	Scott,

So the question was determined in the negative.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 902 (House Bill No. 22), entitled:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1465, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act ,approved the seventeenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 507), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes, and, in cities coextensive with counties, for city and county purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment and collection of the same; providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith; and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes," as amended, by exempting interest bearing accounts in any bank or banking institution, savings institution or trust company from taxation under the provisions of said act.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend title, page 1, line 1 of title, by striking out the word "section" and inserting in lieu thereof: "sections"; also line 1, by inserting after the word "one" the words: "and seventeen"; also section 1, page 3, line 10, by striking out the word "dollars" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "dollar"; also page 4, lines 25, 26 and 27, by striking out all the underscoring in said lines; also page 7, lines 3 to 12, by striking out the words "any pur-" in line 3, and all of lines 4 to 12, both inclusive, and inserting in lieu thereof: "county purposes, and in cities coextensive with counties, for city purposes"; also page 7, by inserting between lines 12 and 13 the following: "Section 2. That section seventeen of said act, as last amended by the act, approved the thirteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 1085), is hereby further amended to read as follows: Section 17. That all scrip, bonds, certificates, and evidences of indebtedness issued, and all scrip, bonds, certificates, and evidences of indebtedness assumed, or on which interest shall be paid, by any and every private corporation, incorporated or created under the laws of this Commonwealth or the laws of any other State or of the United States, and doing business in this Commonwealth, and all scrip, bonds, certificates, and evidences of indebtedness issued, and all scrip, bonds, certificates, and evidences of indebtedness assumed, or on which interest shall be paid, by any county, city, borough, township, school district, or incorporated district of this Commonwealth are hereby made taxable in the year one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and usually thereafter, for State purposes, at the rate of four mills on each dollar of the nominal value thereof: Provided, That whenever under the provisions of this section any private corporation shall become liable for such taxes upon evidences of indebtedness by it assumed, or on which it shall pay interest, it shall be the duty of such corporation, not later than ten days thereafter, to give notice in writing to any person who may at such time be liable for the payment of any taxes upon such evidences of indebtedness by it assumed, or on which it shall pay interest, it shall be the duty of such corporation, not later than ten days thereafter, to give notice in writing to any person who may at such time be liable for the payment of any taxes upon such evidences of indebtedness under the provisions of the first section of the act, approved the seventeenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws, five hundred and seven), to which this is a further amendment, that the corporation has assumed such indebtedness or the payment or the interest thereon, and will deduct and pay the taxes imposed thereon by this section. Such notice shall also be given before the first day of October of each and every subsequent year during which such corporation is liable for the payment of such interest. Where any private corporation shall assume such evidences of indebtedness or the payment of interest thereon prior to the first day of October in any year, and shall give notice as hereinbefore provided, such corporation shall be relieved from the duty of deducting and paying the taxes imposed by this section for the balance of such year, but shall deduct and pay said taxes for the ensuing year; and the person to whom such notice shall be given shall, for such ensuing year, be relieved from the payment of tax, under the provisions of section one of said act of June seventeen, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, upon such evidence of indebtedness so assumed or on which the corporation shall pay interest. Where any private corporation shall assume such evidences of indebtedness, or the payment of interest thereon, on or subsequent to the first day of October in any year, and shall give the notice as hereinbefore provided, such corporation shall be relieved from the duty of deducting and paying the tax upon such evidences of indebtedness by it assumed, or on which it shall pay interest, for the balance of such year and for the ensuing year; and the person to whom notice is so given shall pay the tax for the period for which the corporation is relieved upon such evidences of indebtedness so assumed, or on which the corporation shall pay interest, as provided for in section one of the act of June seventeen, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen. Neglect or failure on the part of any corporation upon assuming any evidences of indebtedness, or becoming liable for the payment of interest thereon, to give the notice as herein provided, and within the time prescribed, shall make such corporation liable for the payment of taxes from the time when such evidences of indebtedness are assumed or for the entire period for which interest shall be paid. Neglect or failure to give such notice before the first day of October of each and every subsequent year during which such corporation is liable for the payment of such interest shall make the corporation liable for such taxes for the year following, without any deduction from interest due as hereinbefore provided: Provided, That this section shall not apply to bank notes, or notes discounted or negotiated by any bank or banking institution, savings institution, or trust company, nor to interest bearing accounts in any bank or banking institution, savings institution, or trust company. And provided, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to building and loan associations, or to savings institutions having no capital stock; [but nothing herein contained shall be construed to relieve or exempt individual depositors in savings institutions having no capital stock from any taxation to which such depositors may be subject;] and if at any time, either now or hereafter, any persons, individuals, or bodies corporate have agreed or shall hereafter agree to issue his, their, or its securities, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness, clear of and free from the said four mills tax herein provided for, or have agreed or shall hereafter agree to pay the same, nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to relieve or exempt him, it, or them from paying the said four mills tax on any of the said securities, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness as may be held, owned by, or owing to the said savings institution having no capital stock; And provided, further, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to fire companies, firemen's relief associations, life or fire insurance corporation having no capital stock, secret and beneficial societies, labor unions and labor union relief associations, and all beneficial organizations paying sick or death benefits, or either or both, from funds received from voluntary contributions or assessments upon members of such associations, societies, or unions; and provided further, That corporations, limited partnerships, and joint-stock associations, liable to tax on capital stock for State purposes, shall not be required to pay any further tax under this section on the mortgages, bonds, and other securities owned by them in their own right; but corporations, limited partnerships, and joint-stock associations, holding such securities as trustees, executors, administrators, guardians, or in any other manner, shall be liable for the tax imposed by this section upon all securities so held by them, as in the case of individuals; And provided further, That none of the classes of property made taxable by this section for State purposes shall be taxed or taxable for county, school, or other local purposes.

It is the intent of this act that all scrip, bonds, certificates, and evidences of indebtedness made taxable under this section are not taxable under section one (1) of the act to which this is an amendment, and that only such scrip, bonds, certificates, and evidences of indebtedness which cannot be made taxable under this section are to be taxed under section one (1) of said act, but nothing contained in this act shall be construed to authorize the taxation of any interest bearing accounts in any bank, banking institution, savings institution and trust company for State purposes; also line 13, by striking out the figure "2" and inserting in lieu thereof: "3."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, May 1, 1933

The House met at 9.00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Grover C. Talbot) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George F. Conner, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and all-wise God, our heavenly Father, as we stand here tonight, in this spacious and beautiful House, there are mingled emotions in our hearts. We are deeply conscious of the honor which has been conferred upon us, members and officers of this august Assembly. But with the honor, there is also grave responsibility resting upon these public servants, charged with the governance of a great and sovereign people. We are after all, like unto our fellow citizens, just plain men and women, with all the weaknesses, ambitions, foibles and conceits, common to humankind. Cognizant of our limitations we humbly pray that Thy Spirit may both guide and sustain us, in striving to achieve the high ideals we conceived as we entered these halls for the first time.

The ladies and gentlemen of the House are confronted with tremendous and far reaching issues this week. Nor can they hope to win universal acclaim, regardless of how the issues are finally decided. But they can, and please God, they will give unstintedly of time and service in the highest interests of the greatest number of our citizenry.

To this end, may each member and officer accept the challenge——

"BE STRONG!

"We are not here to play, to dream, to drift,
We have hard work to do, and loads to lift,
Shun not the struggle . . . Face it . . . 'Tis God's gift, be strong!"—Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Thursday, April 27, 1933.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Thursday, April 27, 1933, when, on motion of Mr. Kinney, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU TO STUDY AND DRAFT LEGISLATION IN RE UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

Mr. SOWERS offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules.

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

The stability of government and the happiness and prosperity of the people of the Nation depends upon the opportunity of those people to earn a livelihood.

Deprived of that opportunity, people who have no employment become a charge upon government and lose their self-respect.

The Commonwealth cannot long sustain the constantly increasing drain upon its finances made necessary by the vast amount of money expended for relief.

It becomes most evident to those who have studied existing conditions that one solution of present ills is the adoption of a system that will make work more certain by providing for the payment of insurance to those thrown out of employment through no fault of their own; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Legislative Reference Bureau is hereby requested to make a careful and thorough study of the question of unemployment insurance, of the systems now in operation, and of those proposed, and to draft a bill for presentation at the next session of the Legislature.

That the said Legislative Reference Bureau shall, in complying with the request contained in this resolution, confer and consult with the Governor, the Attorney General, the Secretary of the Department of Labor and Industry, and with the State Chamber of Commerce, and the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, in order to get the benefit of all views and opinions relating to the question it is hereby requested to study.

That in order to provide the Legislative Reference Bureau with the funds necessary in order to properly and full comply with the request made by this resolution, an item in the sum of two thousand dollars is hereby directed to be inserted in the General Appropriation Bill for that purpose.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 756 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. BECHTEL offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 756, entitled "An act to amend part of section two of the Appropriation Acts of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Act number fifteen-A page sixteen) entitled 'An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one' amending the appropriation relating to the Coaldale State Hospital," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

URGING CONTINUANCE OF CONSTRUCTION OF NAVAL HOSPITAL IN PHILADELPHIA

Miss BRANCATO offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Whereas, As a result of Federal economy legislation, plans for the construction of the new naval hospital at Philadelphia have been discontinued, and

Whereas, The pressing necessity for such an institution in the proposed location has been and is well recognized, and

Whereas, Abandonment or delay in the proposed construction must result in suffering among the nation's servants who are entitled to the nation's care; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assmbly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, respectively presents to His Excellency the President of the United States, that in the opinion of said General Assembly no plan or program, be it economy or otherwise, should be permitted to interfere with the immediate carrying out of so worthy and necessary a project; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by proper authority to the President of the United States.

RESOLUTION

URGING USE OF PORT OF PHILADELPHIA FOR CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Mr. CANNON offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over for printing under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Whereas, Under the new administration of the Honorable Franklin Delano Roosevelt, there will eventually be undertaken the working out of a ship-building program for the United States Navy; and

Whereas, In the past the banks of the Delaware River have been noted as the greatest ship-building center in the United States; and

Whereas, The port of Philadelphia includes the Philadelphia Navy Yard and the William Cramp Ship and Engine Building Company; and

Whereas, The William Cramp Ship and Engine Building Company in the past turned out all kinds of ships from large passenger and merchant ships to battle ships, cruisers, gunboats and destroyers; and

Whereas, According to the Philadelphia Inquirer of October 11, 1917, the William Cramp Ship and Engine Building Company was one of the six ship yards authorized by the United States Government to help carry out the War Department's program of building 787 vessels of all types; and

Whereas, In the course of this project, the William Cramp Ship and Engine Building Company employed 6,500 men with additional employes added as the construction increased; and

Whereas, The strategic location of the city of Philadelphia, to both the coal and iron mines and the steel mills of Pennsylvania by rail, and its easy accessibility to the sea, by the Delaware River, makes this city the most accessible and the most logical place for industry of this type; and

Whereas, Due to the slowing down of this, the greatest of Philadelphia's industries, many people have been thrown out of employment; and

Whereas, The United States Navy Department is contemplating increasing the strength of the Navy, and it would be in keeping with the past record of construction of Philadelphia that many of the vessels which will be constructed in the naval program should be constructed in that port, thereby giving employment to thousands of skilled mechanics of that industry and improving conditions to others by increasing employment, and adding to the buying power of the citizens of Philadelphia; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully urge the Navy Department of the United States to select the port of Philadelphia for the construction of the major part of its new program.

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk to the Secretary of the Navy of the United States.

RESOLUTION

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 380 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. KINNEY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 380, entitled "An Act to amend section three of the act approved the fifth day of March one thousand nine hundred and six (Pamphlet Laws sixty-three) entitled 'An act to provide for the personal registration of electors in cities of the third class of this Commonwealth to make such registration a condition of the right to vote in such cities and to provide penalties for violation of its provisions' as amended by changing the hours when registrars are to sit," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1240 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. WITKIN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 1240, Printer's No. 176, entitled "An act creating a presumption of reasonableness of certain contracts for counsel fees made by the next friend or guardian of a minor provided the same be evidenced by writing," be recalled from the Governor for further consideration.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1383 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. WEIDEMANN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Resolvd (if th Senate concur), That House Bill No. 1363, entitled "An act to amend the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred seventy-eight) entitled 'An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto' by providing for depositories of county funds in counties of the third class," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION No. 83

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 83, Printer's No. 1092.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 27, 1933.

Whereas, Charges have been made of improper practices in the Insurance Department with respect to the doing of business by casualty and fire insurance companies inadequately financed, and with respect to the merger of certain companies and their withdrawal from the State Treasury of assets deposited for the protection of insured persons; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall appoint three Senators, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three Members of the House of Representatives, who, together, shall constitute a joint legislative committee, whose duty it shall be to investigate the affairs and records of the Insurance Department relating to casualty and fire insurance companies, to ascertain whether certain companies are permitted to do business in this Commonwealth when inadequately financed and to ascertain whether mergers or consolidations of casualty companies approved by the Department have been made in accordance with law, and whether securities withdrawn from the Treasury Department, if any, after any such merger or consolidation, have been legally withdrawn;

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers records, or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases;

Resolved, That said committee shall make report of its findings to the next session of the General Assembly.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend paragraph two, line 10, by inserting after the word "financed" the words, "or otherwise operating in violation of the insurance laws of this Commonwealth."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the resolution as amended lie over for printing.

RESOLUTION No. 78

Mr. QUINN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 78, Printer's No. 1058.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 25, 1933.

Whereas, Statistics show that seventy per centum of the mercantile business of the Nation is handled and conducted by chain stores and

Whereas, Seventy-five per centum of the moneys received by chain stores in the smaller cities and localities is withdrawn from such cities and localities and deposited in banks in New York London and other large financial centers; and

Whereas, The present financial condition of many banks has been brought about by the withdrawing of capital from the smaller centers of population by chain stores and corporations; and

Whereas, If this withdrawal of capital from smaller localities is continued and persisted in the banks in such localities will soon be unable to continue in business; therefore be it

Resolved, That His Excellency the Governor is requested to issue a proclamation calling upon chain stores insurance companies and other chain corporations to deposit and leave in banks located in the communities from which their receipts are drawn as much thereof as is possible in the conduct of their business to the end that the banks may continue to exist and the business of such communiites be preserved and fostered and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House to His Excellency the Governor.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE APPOINTED UNDER RESOLUTION No. 64

Mr. HABBYSHAW. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following report of the Committee appointed under House Resolution No. 64, Printer's No. 497.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

May 1, 1933.

Hon. Grove C. Talbot, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir:

Your committee, appointed to study and suggest adequate legislation under Resolution No. 64, Printer's No. 497, to meet the crisis in unemployment relief welfare work ,caused by the recent ruling of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund on Compensation Insurance for labor provided by welfare and unemployment relief authorities, recommends that—Senate Bill No. 973, Printer's No. 489, with the attached amendments be offered to the House of Representatives for passage.

Very truly yours,

WM. E. HABBYSHAW,
Chairman.
PHILIP STERLING,
JOHN M. FLYNN,
GEO. N. WADE.
DAVID R. PERRY.

AMENDMENTS TO SENATE BILL No. 973

Printer's No. 489.

Amend title, page 1, lines 8 to 11, by striking out the words "to exempt persons fur-" in line 8, and all of lines 9, 10 and 11, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "defining the liability of public or charitable bodies, corporations and institutions to pay workmen's compensation to persons injured in work relief employment and to carry insurance therefor and the rights of persons injured in such employment; establishing the State Work Relief Compensation Fund to provide such compensation in certain cases, and providing for the administration of such fund by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, and making an appropriation therefor."

Amend Section 1, page 1, lines 4 to 8, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Section 1, page 2, lines 1 to 9, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "when used in this act, the following terms shall have the meanings ascribed to them by this section unless the context clearly requires a different meaning."

"(a) The term 'work relief employe' shall mean any person engaged in work for any public or charitable body, corporation or institution by direction or assignment of the State Emergency Relief Board or a county emergency relief board or other agency of the State Emergency Relief Board, in return for cash or commodities furnished by or through the action of the State Emergency Relief Board as unemployment relief.

"(b) The term 'the act to which this is a supplement' shall mean The Workmen's Compensation Act of 1915, and all supplements and amendments thereto.

"(c) The term 'work relief employer' shall mean any public or charitable body, corporation or institution employing any 'work relief employe' as defined in sub-section (a) of this section.

"Section 2. No compensation shall be payable to injured 'work relief employes' during the first twenty-six weeks of disability: Provided however, That this section shall not apply to injuries compensable under sub-sections (c) and (e) of section three hundred and six or section three hundred and seven of the act to which this is a supplement.

"Section 3. 'Work relief employes' as herein defined are hereby declared to be 'employes' of 'work relief employers' for all purposes of the act to which this is a supplement. Any 'work relief employer' who shall desire to be relieved of this liability to such 'work relief employe' shall pay into the State Treasury the amounts provided in section four of this act. Payments to the State Treasurer of such amounts shall relieve the 'work relief employer' of all further obligation for compensation to the 'work relief employe' or his dependents and from obligation to carry insurance for such compensation and such liability is hereby excluded from policies of insurance covering other types of employment.

"Section 4. Each 'work relief employer' contributing to the State Work Relief Compensation Fund shall pay to it twenty-five cents per week for each 'work relief employe' used by such 'work relief employer': Provided, however, That the Insurance Commissioner shall from time to time review the adequacy of this rate and modify it as circumstances require.

"Section 5. The moneys paid into the State Treasury under the provisions of this act shall be kept in a special fund to be known as the 'State Work Relief Compensation Fund.' The State workmen's Insurance Fund shall administer the State Work Relief Compensation Fund and shall determine the amounts due from each 'work relief employer,' collect the amounts so due, transfer them to the State Work Relief Compensation Fund, and pay out from such fund the amounts due in accordance with the provisions of this act. The moneys of the State Work Relief Compensation Fund are hereby expressly appropriated to the State Workmen's Insurance Fund for the purpose of this act. As compensation for administration of the State Work Relief Compensation Fund, the State Workmen's Insurance Fund shall receive from the said fund seventeen and one-half per centum of the moneys paid from such fund in each month for workmen's compensation, medical, surgical, hospital services, supplies and funeral expenses.

"Section 6. From the State Work Relief Compensation Fund, the State Workmen's Insurance Fund shall pay to injured 'work relief employes' and their dependents the benefits and compensation prescribed by the act to which this is a supplement as modified by this act. Payments of medical, surgical, hospital services and supplies, and funeral expenses may, in the discretion of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, be paid upon certificate of the 'work relief employer' as herein defined when accompanied by a certificate from the county emergency relief board or other agency of the State Emergency Relief Board, certifying that the injury for which claim is made was sustained in the course of work relief employment. Compensation payments to injured 'work relief employes' or their dependents shall be made only upon a final award of a workmen's compensation referee or the State Workmen's Compensation Board with or without a hearing. The State Workmen's Insurance Fund shall not be liable to make any payments under this act from any moneys except the State Work Relief Compensation Fund.

"Section 7. There is hereby re-appropriated to the State Work Relief Compensation Fund from the funds appropriated or to be appropriated for the biennium beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, to the State Emergency Relief Board, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars.

"Section 8. All acts and parts of acts, inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed."

Amend Section 2, page 2, line 10, by striking out the figure "2" and inserting in lieu thereof: "9."

The SPEAKER. The report will be noted in the Journal, printed in the Legislative Journal and referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 2156 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. WILSON offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 2156, entitled "An Act to amend section one hundred thirty-six of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred seventy-eight) entitled 'An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eight classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto' changing the procedure to create the office of county controller including procedures where decrees have heretofore been entered." be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1874 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. SHEFFER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 26, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 1824, entitled "An act to amend section two of the act approved the third day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred thirty-five) entitled 'An act authorizing the Department of Justice acting for the Department of Forests and Waters to institute suits on behalf of the Commonwealth to recover from persons associations copartnerships and corporations and their officers agents and employes causing forest fires the expenses incurred by the Department of Forests and Waters to institute suits for such purposes where such expenses do not exceed three hundred dollars," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1124 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. McELWEE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 1124, entitled "An act to amend section two hundred and ninety-five of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred seventy-eight) entitled 'An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto' by limiting the compensation of the clerk to the jury commissioners in counties of the sixth class," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION No. 81

Mr. DENNING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 81, Printer's No. 1090.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 26, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint four Members of the House, and the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint three Members of the Senate, who, together, shall constitute a Joint Legislative Committee, whose duty it shall be to thoroughly investigate affairs of the Department of Property and Supplies relating to legislative printing, the work of the Public Printer, the purchase of supplies for State printing, ways and means of improving legislative printing in the interest of economy and efficiency, and such other matters and affairs relating to legislative printing as the Committee deems necessary.

Resolved, That said Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requiring and commanding any person to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the Committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the Committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requiring and commanding any person to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the Committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the Committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoens issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each Member of the Committee shall have power to administer oaths of affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall willfully neglect or refuse to appear and testify before said Committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases.

Resolved, That an item be inserted in the General Appropriation Bill to pay the expenses of said Committee.

Resolved, That said Committee shall make report of its findings accompanied by such drafts of legislation as it deems necessary to the next Session of the Legislature.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. DENNING. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Hutton.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Hutton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUTTON. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DENNING. Mr. Speaker, may I ask what the gentleman's object is in recommitting this resolution or sending it to the Committee on Appropriations?

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, this is not a recommittal. It is a reference to the Committee on Appropriations. In view of the fact that the second resolution provides that an item be inserted in the General Appropriation Bill to pay the expenses of said committee, consequently the Committee on Appropriations is the proper committee to take cognizance of this matter.

Mr. DENNING. Mr. Speaker, what is the difference between the committee that the gentleman just asked to have appointed and the committee that I have asked to be appointed? Where was that resolution sent? Was that referred to the Committee on Appropriations?

Mr. HUTTON. The motion was to refer it to the Committee on Appropriations of the House.

Mr. DENNING. Mr. Speaker, that does not answer my question. I would like to know where that resolution was sent.

Mr. HUTTON. To which resolution does the gentleman refer, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. DENNING. In reference to insurance.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, that has not been referred. That has been laid over for printing.

The SPEAKER. On the interrogation, may the Chair inform the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Denning, that the motion before the House pertains to Resolution No. 81 and that no other resolution is before the House at this time.

Mr. DENNING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I ask you to vote no on this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, will state his point of order.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, neither a bill nor a resolution carrying an appropriation can come before the House until it has been referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

The SPEAKER. On the point of order raised by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, the Chair would say that if a clause in a resolution appropriated a specific sum it would be well taken, but in view of the fact that this clause does not make an appropriation, the point of order is not well taken.

Mr. HART. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Denning.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Denning, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENNING. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HART. Mr. Speaker, has the Committee on Printing made any effort to get the information sought by this resolution?

Mr. DENNING. Not the Committee on Printing as a whole, Mr. Speaker, but the chairman of that Committee has done so.

Mr. HART. Mr. Speaker, I understand that the chairman of that committee has done so, acting for the Committee.

Mr. DENNING. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The resolution was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 911 FROM THE GOVERNOR

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 911, entitled "An act to amend sections four and five of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eighty) entitled 'An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands and prescribing interest charges on non-payment thereof requiring the receivers and collectors of county city borough town township school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes and providing for the lien thereof authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances' by providing for the extension of the period during which such taxes shall remain liens on real estate and authorizing the filing of such liens in the prothonotary's office," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 500 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. MASON asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 500, entitled "An act to amend the act approved the twenty-fifth day of February one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five (Pamphlet Laws four) entitled 'A supplement to the act approved March thirty-first one thousand eight hundred and sixty entitled "An act to consolidate revise and amend the penal laws of t his Commonwealth" further defining the offence of kidnaping and affixing additional penalties thereto' by increasing the penalty for kidnaping of children under the age of sixteen years with intent to extort money for restoration," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO STUDY INSURANCE CODE

Mr. SCHWARTZ offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Whereas, Bills codifying and revising the law relating to the Insurance Department and insurance companies have been presented to this session of the Legislature and there is not sufficient time for the Senate and House of Representatives to complete studies of these codes so as to authorize their adoption at this session of the Legislature, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint four members of the House, who, together shall constitute a joint legislative committee whose duty it shall be to study House Bill No. 926, known as the "Insurance Department Code," and House Bill No. 1400, known as the "Insurance Code," to prepare such corrections and amendments to said codes as may be deemed necessary, and to resubmit said bills with its corrections and amendments to the legislative session of 1935.

Resolved, That an item of two thousand dollars ($2,000) be inserted in the General Appropriation Bill to pay the expenses of the members of said committee.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SHELLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1018, Printer's No. 1082, entitled

An Act to amend section three of the act approved the tenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 485), entitled "An act to provide for the better protection of life and health of the citizens of this Commonwealth by requiring and regulating the examination, licensure and registration of persons, and registration of corporations, engaging in the care, preparation and disposition of the bodies of deceased persons; and providing penalties"; by permitting the licensing of the spouse of a deceased licensed undertaker without necessity of certain educational qualifications.

on page 9 of today's calendar, bills on third reading, be recommitted to the Committee on Education for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GREEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill has been in committee since February 21st. It came out for first and second reading on April 10th and 11th respectively. It was referred back to committee for further consideration on April 12th. I think that this bill has been thoroughly studied and I ask the members to vote this motion down.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The motion was not agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2366, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation out of the Motor License Fund for highway purposes in counties of the first class

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of three million dollars is hereby appropriated out of the Motor License Fund for the period commencing on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-three and ending on the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five to be paid to counties of the first class on orders of the Secretary of Highways for the purposes of constructing reconstructing maintaining and repairing the roads and highways of such counties and of cities coextensive with such counties Payments out of this appropriation shall be made quarterly upon requisition of the Secretary of Highways.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

Section 15 Act Not Applicable to Small Loan Companies and certain private banks A This act does not apply to and does not affect any act relating to corporations and persons licensed by the Department to make small loans as provided by the act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand twelve) entitled "An act regulating the business of loaning money in sums of three hundred ($300.00) dollars or less either with or without security to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities fixing the rates of interest and charges therefor requiring the licensing of lenders and prescribing penalties for the violation of this act" its amendments and supplements

B This act likewise does not apply to any individual partnership or unincorporated association engaged in business as a private banker or private bankers if such individual partnership or unincorporated association and his or their predecessor or predecessors or one or more of the members thereof have continuously and in the same locality conducted the business since a date not less than seven years prior to the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Root.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Root, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROOT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether the amendment, as offered, does not place back in the act that the supervision of private bankers shall be under the supervision of the Banking Department?

Mr. ROOT. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ROOT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend page, 14, Section 15, line 11, by striking out the words "and certain private banks."

Amend page 14, Section 15, by striking out lines 24 to 29, inclusive.

Amend page 15, Section 15, by striking out lines 1 to 3, inclusive.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER. The Chair now rules that in future no amendments will be accepted at the desk unless they refer to the particular sections or particular articles. It is a great deal easier for the members to ascertain than it is for the Chair or the Clerks to recognize the amendments when they are sent to the desk. The members will govern themselves accordingly.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

ARTICLE VIII

SECRETARY IN POSSESSION OF TRUST DEPARTMENT

Section 801 Institution as Fiduciary References in this act to funds property or investments held in a fiduciary capacity by an institution of which the Secretary has taken possession shall apply only to funds property or investments held in such fiduciary capacity by the trust department of such institution and shall not apply to funds property or investments which were held by the commercial department of such institution

Section 802 Secretary in Possession of Trust Department A The Secretary upon taking possession of an institution as receiver shall keep all the funds property and investments if any which are held by such institution in a fiduciary capacity separate from the assets of the institution itself

B The Secretary when in possession of an institution as receiver shall have all the rights powers and duties which such institution had in its fiduciary capacity He shall have title to all the assets including debts due liens and other security therefor and all rights of action or redemption of all estates of which the institution either alone or jointly with someone else was trustee executor administrator guardian assignee or other similar fiduciary and shall have the power to administer such estates In pursuance of this power the Secretary may institute any action at law or in equity or execute and sign any written instruments which the institution itself could have instituted executed or signed

The Secretary shall not however have the power to invest funds or property of any such estate except where it shall appear necessary to purchase any real or personal property or any interest therein in order to protect an equity which such estate has in such property Such purchase by the Secretary shall not however be made without the approval of any corporation or person whose approval would have been necessary to such purchase by the institution prior to the taking of possession by the Secretary and of the court which has exercised jurisdiction over such estate If no court has yet exercised jurisdiction over the estate then the approval either of the court of common pleas or of the orphan's court of the county in which the place of business of the institution is situated shall be procured

Except where otherwise specifically provided references in this act to the court which has exercised jurisdiction over an estate of which an institution in possession of the Secretary was fiduciary shall be construed to refer in cases in which the institution was executor or administrator to the orphans' court of the county of which the register of wills issued the letters testamentary or letters of administration respectively and in all other cases to the court of common pleas or the orphans' court in which an account of the estate has been filed or which has in any manner exercised control or supervision over the administration of such estate by the institution as fiduciary

Section 803 Disputes as to Identity of Trust Funds All disputes as to the identity of the funds property or investments of an estate of which an institution in the possession of the Secretary was fiduciary arising either because such funds property or investments have become or are alleged to have become mingled with other funds property or investments or for any other reason shall be determined by the court in which the certificate of possession is filed Such court shall have exclusive jurisidiction over such disputes

Section 804 Appointment of Substituted Fiduciaries Upon filing a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of the institution the Secretary shall forthwith give written notice in so far as the giving of such notice is practicable to all parties of whom he has notice who are interested in any funds property or investments held by such institution in a fiduciary capacity Such notice shall require such parties within thirty days after the giving of notice to apply for the appointment of substituted fiduciaries Such application shall be made as follows In any case in which the institution was executor or administrator application shall be made to the register of wills having jurisdiction to grant new letters in such form as the case shall require in any other case application shall be made to any court which has exercised jurisdiction over the estate or if no court has exercised such jurisdiction then to the court of common pleas or the orphans' court of the county in which the institution has its place of business However if the instrument under which the fiduciary relationship was established provides a particular method for the selection of fiduciaries such method shall be followed

If the parties to whom such notice has been given do not within the thiry-day period designated make such application or pursue whatever method is prescribed by the instrument under which the fiduciary relationship was established for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary or if it is impracticable to give notice to the parties interested in the estate then he Secretary shall make the application for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary to the court or the register of wills whichever the case may be designated above Such court or register of wills shall appoint a substituted fiduciary upon such petition of the Secretary

Section 805 Transfer of Assets to Substituted Fiduciary without Filing Account If a substituted fiduciary has been appointed in accordance with the provisions of this act and if there is no dispute as to the amount or identity of the funds property or investments of the particular estate and as to the fees commissions and expenses due either to the institution before the Secretary took possession or to the Secretary as receiver since the taking of possession and if all the parties in interest being sui juris agree in writing to waive an accounting in court the Secretary in possession of an institution as receiver may transfer to such substituted fiduciary all the funds property and investments of the particular estate without filing an account in any court Upon such transfer he shall procure from all the parties in interest and from the substituted fiduciary a receipt and release in full which shall discharge the Secretary and the institution from any further duty or liability with reference to such estate

Section 806 Filing of Account Transfer of Assets to Substituted Fiduciary A Except in cases in which the Secretary is authorized by the provisions of this act to transfer to a substituted fiduciary without filing an account the funds property or investments of an estate of which the institution was fiduciary he shall file an account for every estate of which such institution was fiduciary The Secretary shall file each such account upon the date fixed by the instrument creating the fiduciary relationship or if there is no such date fixed then as soon as expedient after the filing of a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of the institution Such account shall be filed in the court which has exercised jurisdiction over the particular estate or if no court has yet exercised jurisdiction then in the court of common pleas or the orphans' court of the county in which the place of business of the institution is situated The Secretary shall then transfer or pay to the substituted fiduciary appointed pursuant to the provisions of this act any funds property or investments in his possession which belong to such estate Such transfer or payment shall be made in accordance with the order of the court in which the account for such estate is filed The court in directing such transfer or payment may reserve for future determination any question of surcharge

B The court which has exercised jurisdiction over a particular estate of which the institution was fiduciary or if no court has exercised such jurisdiction then the court of common pleas or the orphans' court of the county in which the institution has its place of business may order the Secretary to transfer the funds property or investments of the estate to the substituted fiduciary even prior to the filing of an account The court in such order may reserve for future determination any question of surcharge or any other question which may arise upon the audit of the account

C This section shall not be construed to give any court other than the one in which the certificate of possession is filed jurisdiction over disputes involving the identity of funds property or investments of an estate of which the institution was fiduciary

Section 807 Deficiencies in Assets Held by Institution as Fiduciary Whenever the court in which the Secretry has filed the account of an estate of which an institution in his possession was fiduciary shall in the manner provided by law rule that there is a deficiency in the funds property or investments of such estate or that the institution is liable to surcharge in respect thereto the amount determined by such court to be due shall constitute a claim against the institution and shall be presented in the same manner as other claims except that it may be presented at any time within six months after the appointment of a substituted fiduciary of the estate and the adjudication of the account of such estate by the competent court Such order or decree of such court shall be conclusive as to the amount due except for the right of appeal provided by law Any dispute as to the classification or order of payment of such claim as distinguished from the amount shall be adjudicated by the court in which the certificate of possession is filed

If the existence or amount of any such deficiency or surcharge or the liability of the institution therefor is in litigation but undetermined at the time dividends for claims having no priority in order of payment over such claims are being distributed the Secretary shall upon notice of such fact from the substituted fiduciary withhold and set apart a sufficient amount to pay the proportionate dividend which will be due upon such undetermined claim if it is finally adjudicated in favor of the estate of which the institution was fiduciary

Section 808 Compensation Due Institution and Secretary from Estates The Secretary in possession of an institution as receiver shall be entitled to collect such reasonable fees and commisions as were earned both as to income and as to principal and such reasonable expenses as were incurred by the institution in its capacity as fiduciary prior to the date on which possession was taken by the Secretary He shall also be entitled to reasonable fees and commissions both as to income and as to principal for any services performed and all reasonable expenses incurred by him on behalf of any estate of which the institution was fiduciary The Secretary shall be entitled to such commissions on principal as shall appear reasonable under all the circumstances whether or not the trust has terminated at the time of the filing of the account or of the transfer by the Secretary of the funds property and investments of the estate in accordance with the provisions of the instrument creating the fiduciary relationship All sums received by the Secretary under this section shall become assets of the institution of which he is in possession as receiver

Except in cases where the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act transfers funds property or investments of the estate without filing an account the court in which the Secretary shall file the account for the estate of which the institution was fiduciary shall award to the Secretary the fees commissions and expenses provided for in this section

ARTICLE IX

SECRETARY IN POSSESSION OF A MORTGAGE OR SECURITY POOL OR OF AN ASSET IN WHICH UNDIVIDED INTERESTS ARE HELD

Section 901 Mortgage and Security Pools and Participations Accounts Whenever the Secretary shall have filed a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of an institution of which he is in possession as receiver he shall as soon as it may be convenient file in the court in which the certificate of possession shall have been filed an account as to any mortgages securities or other assets comprising any mortgage or securities pool operated by such institution or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests shall have been created by the institution regardless of whether certificates of participation in such mortgage or securities pool or in such mortgage security or other asset shall have been actually issued by the institution and regardless of whether the relation of the institution to the owners of the undivided interests in such mortgage or securities pool or in any such mortgage security or other asset is technically that of a trustee

A mortgage or securities pool shall be regarded as having been operated by the institution regardless of whether any or all of the mortgages securities or other assets in such pool shall be held in the name of the institution or in the name of a nominee of the institution Where undivided interests have been created in any mortgage security or other asset by any corporation or person holding such mortgage secruity or other asset as nominee of the institution such undivided interests shall be regarded as having been created by the institution

The prothonotary shall not be under any duty to recopy or otherwise record any such account filed by the Secretary He shall make no charge except the regular fee for filing such or similar papers

Section 902 Transfer of Pools and Participations without Filing an Account If all the corporations or persons who are the owners of all the undivided interests in any mortgage or securities pool or in any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests are sui juris and if they shall agree to the amount asserted by the Secretary to be due him as receiver for services rendered by the institution or by him and for expenses incurred by either and if they shall authorize the Secretary to transfer any such mortgage or securities pool or any such mortgage security or other asset to them or to a substituted fiduciary or any other corporation or person agreed upon by them and if they shall execute proper instruments releasing the Secretary and the institution from any further liability to them the Secretary may transfer to such substituted fiduciary or to such corporation or person without filing an account all the mortgages securities or other assets comprising such mortgage or securities pool or the mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests have been created In any case where the institution as fiduciary of an estate is the owner on behalf of such estate of any undivided interest in any such mortgage or securities pool or in any such mortgage security or other asset and no substituted fiduciary has been appointed for such estate the Secretary shall not transfer such mortgage or securities pool or such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution unless he shall also be authorized to make such transfer by all corporations or persons having an interest in the estate of which the institution was fiduciary except that where substituted fiduciaries have not been appointed for unborn beneficiaries of the estate or for other beneficiaries who are not sui juris the Secretary shall not be required to obtain such authority from anyone in behalf of such unborn beneficiaries or other persons who are not sui juris

Section 903 Notice of Filing Account A Upon filing an account as to any mortgages securities or other assets comprising any mortgage or securities pool operated by an institution of which he is in possession as receiver or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests the Secretary shall give notice thereof in so far as it may be practicable to all corporations or persons who are the owners of the undivided interests in any such mortgage or securities pool or in any such mortgage security or other asset and in any case where the institution as fiduciary of an estate is the owner on behalf of such estate of any such undivided interest then to all corporations or persons having an interest in such estate except that no such notice need be given to anyone on behalf of unborn beneficiaries who are not sui juris where no substituted fiduciary has been appointed for such beneficiaries Such notice shall be given to the corporations or persons entitled thereto under this section at their addresses as they appear on the books or other records of the institution or if the address of any such corporation or person does not appear thereon then at the last known address of such corporation or person

B Such notice shall state the time and place of the audit of such account and except where an application for a substituted fiduciary shall have been made by any other method authorized by this act it shall also state the intention of the Secretary to apply for a substituted fiduciary for such mortgage or securities pool or for such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution and the time and place of any hearing upon such application which may be fixed by the court

Section 904 Appointment of Substituted Fiduciary Transfer of Pools or Participations upon Order of Court A After the filing by the Secretary of a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the business and property of an institution but either before or after the filing of an account by him as to any mortgages securities or other assets comprising any mortgage or securities pool operated by such institution or as to any mortgage security or other assets in which the institution shall have created undivided interests the owner of any undivided interest in such mortgage or securities pool or in such mortgage security or other asset may file in the court in which the certificate of possession is filed a petition for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary for such mortgage or securities pool or for such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created

If such petition shall not have been filed by the owner of any such undivided interest within thirty days after the notice by the Secretary of the filing of an account as to such mortgage or security pool or as to such mortgage security or other asset the Secretary shall file in the court in which the certificate of possession is filed a petition for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary for such mortgage or securities pool or for any such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution

Upon the filing of such a petition by the owner of any such undivided interest or by the Secretary for such mortgage or security pool or for such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution the court shall upon a day fixed by it conduct a hearing upon such application after which it shall appoint a substituted fiduciary

B The Secretary shall transfer to the substituted fiduciary appointed by the court all such mortgages securities or other assets comprising any such mortgage or securities pool or any such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created as are in his possession as receiver and as to which he shall have filed an account The substituted fiduciary shall take such mortgages securities or other assets without liability for the nature or value of the mortgages securities or other assets as investments Such transfer shall be made in accordance with the order of the court and in directing such transfer the court may reserve for future determination any question of surcharge against the institution or the Secretary

The court may after petition filed pursuant to the provisions of this section order the Secretary to make such transfer even prior to filing an account in which case it may also reserve for future determination any question which may arise upon the audit of the account

Section 905 Advances by Secretary to Substituted Fiduciary Whenever the Secretary shall have filed an account as to any such mortgage or securities pool or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests and it shall appear to the court that any sum of cash will be needed by the substituted fiduciary for the protection of the owners of undivided interests in such mortgage or securities pools or in any such mortgage security or other asset as to which account shall have been filed and if it shall appear from the account that the Secretary does not have any cash held by him in connection with such mortgages or securities pool or in connection with any such mortgage security or other asset or if the account discloses that the cash in his hands for that purpose is sufficient for the protection of the owners of the undivided interests in such mortgage or securities pool or any such mortgage or security or other asset or where no account is filed if the Secretary shall demonstrate these facts to the satisfaction of the court the court may upon petition of the Secretary and in the exercise of its discretion order the Secretary to advance to the substituted fiduciary out of the general assets of the institution such cash as may be necessary for the protection of the owners of such undivided interest such order shall provide that the amount of cash so advanced by the Secretary shall be repaid by the substituted fiduciary out of the first moneys realized by such substituted fiduciary on the mortgages securities and other assets transferred to him

Section 906 Compensation and Expenses The court in its adjudication of any account filed by the Secretary as to any mortgage or securities pool operated by an institution of which the Secretary is in possession as receiver or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests shall award to the Secretary such compensation for services rendered and expenses properly incurred by the institution or by the Secretary as the court shall deem reasonable and proper under all the circumstances The order of the court making any such award to the Secretary shall provide for the payment of such compensation or expenses out of any cash included in the account or if there be no cash in the account or if the amount of cash included therein is insufficient to pay the amount awarded to the Secretary the order shall provide for the payment of such compensation or expenses out of the first moneys realized by the substituted fiduciary on the mortgages securities or other assets so transferred to such substituted fiduciary All sums received by the Secretary under this section shall become assets of the institution of which he is in possession as receiver

When the court shall pursuant to the provisions of this act order the Secretary to transfer such mortgages securities or other assets prior to the filing of an account it shall similarly make provision for the payment of the compensation earned or the expenses incurred by the institution or by the Secretary

Article X, sections 1001 to 1006 inclusive were separately read and agreed to as follows:

ARTICLE X

PROOF OF CLAIMS ACCOUNTING AND DISTRIBUTION

Section 1001 Notice to Depositors Shareholders and Other Creditors After filing a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of an institution of which he has taken possession as receiver the Secretary shall forthwith give notice of such fact to all corporations or persons who appear upon the books of the institution as or who are otherwise known to the Secretary to be or claim to be depositors or other creditors and in the case of a building and loan association shareholders of such institution He shall likewise give notice to any corporation or person who pursuant to the provisions of this act has given the Secretary notice of his claim to the right of execution or attachment against any assets owned by or legally in the custody or possession of the Secretary as receiver of the institution

The notice to each depositor or in the case of a building and loan association to each shareholder shall state the amount which the books or other records of the institution show to be due to such depositor or shareholder It shall also state that unless such depositor or shareholder shall within a specified time present to the Secretary for settlement his deposit or pass book or other evidence of his account showing a different amount to be due or unless such depositor or shareholder shall within a specified time from the date of such notice prove in the manner provided by this act that a different amount is due the amount shown to be due by the books of the institution will be conclusively presumed to be correct unless the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants him an extension of time

The notice to each creditor other than a depositor or in the case of a building and loan association other than a shareholder shall inform such creditor that he must present his claim in the manner provided by this act within a specified time from the date of such notice or else be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution unless the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants him an extension of time

The Secretary shall also advertise in a newspaper or newspapers as provided in this act the fact that he has determined to liquidate the affairs of the institution and that he has filed an inventory and appraisement in the office of the prothonotary Such advertisement shall state that all depositors or in the case of building and loan associations all shareholders must prove their claims within a specified period or be bound by the amount shown by the books or records of the institution to be due them and that any corporation or person not appearing upon the books of the institution to be a depositor or in the case of a building and loan association a shareholder and not presenting his pass book or other evidence of the state of his account or otherwise presenting his claim will be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution unless the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants him an extension of time It shall also state that all creditors other than depositors or in the case of building and loan associations other than shareholders not proving their claims in the manner provided by this act and within a specified perior will likewise be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution except where the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants to a creditor an extension of time

The Secretary shall specify as the last day upon which depositors creditors and in the case of a building and loan association shareholders can present their claims a date not less than one hundred twenty days after the taking of possession of the institution by him as receiver provided that such date shall be at least thirty days after the date of the sending of such notice However claims based upon deficiencies in or surcharges with respect to funds property or investments which such institution held in a fiduciary capacity may be presented at any time within six months after the appointment of a substituted fiduciary of the estate of which such funds property or investments were a part and the adjudication of the account of such estate by the competent court

Section 1002 Proof of Claims of Depositors or in Building and Loan Associations Shareholders Any depositor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder who disagrees with the amount shown by the books or other records of the institution to be due to him shall present his claims to the Secretary by presenting his deposit or pass books or other evidence of indebtednes sto the Secretary within the time and in the manner designated by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act Any such depositor or shareholder who shall not have received or shall have lost his deposit or pass book or other evidence of indebtedness or who shall believe that the amount shown by such deposit or pass book or other evidence of indebtedness due to him is incorrect shall within the time designated by the Secretary present his claim to the Secretary by whatever method he shall designate

Any depositor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder who shall not present his claim within the designated time and in the manner provided by this section shall be bound by the amount appearing to be due to him upon the books or records of the institution or where the name of such depositor or shareholder does not appear at all upon the books or records of the institution or appears on such books or records but with no balance appearing to be due to him by the institution shall be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution However the court may upon petition and adequate cause shown permit any depositor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder to file his claim upon a later date but no claim shall in any event be allowed to be filed after the last day for the filing of exceptions to the first account of the Secretary

This section shall not however be construed to deprive any such depositor or shareholder of any right of action at law or in equity which he may have against an employe or former employe of the institution or upon the bond of such employe or former employe for any act committed by such employe which resulted in such depostor's or shareholder's not appearing upon the books of the institution or appearing upon them but being credited with an amount below that actually due

The Secretary shall prescribe the form for the proof of claim of all depositors or in the case of building and loan associations shareholders and for the affidavit to be included

therein Whenever requested by any such depositor or shareholder to prepare such proof of claim or to take the affidavit thereto the Secretary shall do so without any charge to such depositor or shareholder

Section 1003 Proof of Claims of Creditors A Creditors other than depositors or in the case of a building and loan association other than shareholders shall not share in any distribution of the assets of the institution unless the creditor or someone for him shall within the time specified by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act present to the Secretary a statement of his claim together with a copy of any book entries pertaining thereto any note or other instrument received as evidence thereof and a list of any collateral or agreement of pledge received in connection therewith

However the court may upon petition and adequate cause shown permit any creditor to file his claim upon a later date but no claim shall in any event be allowed to be filed after the last day for the filing of exceptions to the first account of the Secretary

The statement of a creditor's claim required by this section shall be verified by affidavit in substantially the following form

"I (name of claimant) do solemnly swear (or affirm) that the above is a true statement of my claim against (name of institution) that there are no credits or allowances against this claim except as therein set forth that there is no collateral security for this indebtedness or any part thereof held by me or by anyone else other than as above set forth and that I am not the owner or the obligee directly or indirectly of any contract of indemnity or insurance covering this claim except as set forth above"

If the creditor shall be a corporation such affidavit shall be made by the treasurer or assistant treasurer thereof and if a partnership by any member thereof In either such case the form of the affidavit shall be modified accordingly

B The provisions of this section shall not apply to the claims of parties interested in the custody possession or control of funds property or investments held by such institution in a fiduciary capacity However except as otherwise provided in this act the provisions of this section shall apply to disputes concerning the identity of such funds property or investments or to claims based upon deficiencies therein or the liability of the institution to surcharge thereon

Section 1004 Allowance of Claims For the purposes of the accounting provided for in this act the Secretary shall allow the claims of depositors or in the case of a building and loan association shareholders for the amounts shown to be due to them upon the books or other records of the institution or for such other amounts as they shall within the time and in the manner provided by this act prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary are due to them He shall likewise allow the claims of all other creditors when presented within the time and in the manner provided by this act if he shall be satisfied that the amounts claimed are rightfully due He shall reject all other claims of depositors other creditors and in the case of building and loan associations shareholders

Section 1005 Advance Payments of Dividends to Depositors After the expiration of the period fixed by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act for the presentation of claims he may without leave of court and without filing an account make an advance payment of a dividend to all depositors the amounts of whose claims as they appear upon the books or other records of the institution are undisputed The dividend shall be calculated as if the claims of all other depositors as they appear upon the books or other records of the institution and the claims of all creditors or other corporations or persons who assert priority over or parity with depositors in the order of distribution of the assets were valid and uncontested

However the Secretary shall not make such an advance payment of a dividend to any depositor until he shall set aside an amount sufficient to pay in full the claims of all creditors or other corporations or persons asserting or entitled to priority over depositors in the order of distribution and to pay the proportionate dividend on the amounts claimed by the other depositors and by any creditors or other corporations or persons who are entitled to or who claim parity with depositors in the order of distribution provided for by law He shall likewise set aside before making such advance payment such amount as he shall deem necessary for the expenses of administration of the institution by him as receiver

Section 1006 Expenses of Administration Any reasonable expenditure made by the Secretary as receiver of an institution including any expense incurred in the management reorganization consolidation liquidation or distribution of the assets and affairs of the institution and any compensation paid to the deputy receiver or any other person employed to assist the Secretary in such management reorganization consolidation liquidation or distribution and to any deputy attorney general special deputy attorney general assistant deputy attorney general or other attorney who has been assigned by the Department of Justice to the Secretary to handle for him any legal business pertaining to the affairs or property of such institution shall be paid out of the assets of the institution provided it is included in any partial or final account filed by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act and is approved by the court in which such account is filed

Where such expenses are incurred or such compensation is paid for the benefit of the estate of more than one institution in the possession of the Secretary as receiver an equitable portion of such expenses or compensation shall be paid out of the assets of each institution on whose behalf such expenditures were made

Article X, section 1007 was read as follows:

Section 1007 Partial or Final Account Objections A At any time after the expiration of the period fixed by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act for the presentation of claims he shall file a partial or final account of his administration of the business and property of the institution duly verified by him under oath or affirmation in the office of the prothonotary which shall be recorded by the prothonotary

If the Secretary shall not file his first account within one year after he takes possession of an institution any depositor other creditor or shareholder of such institution may petition the court to order the Secretary to file an account The court may in its discretion grant or refuse the petition

The account shall present his administration of the estate including a statement of all receipts or expenditures by the Secretary as receiver a list of all claims which have been allowed and a separate list of claims which have been objected to or are disputed showing as to all depositors other creditors and in the case of a building and loan association shareholders their names and addresses the amounts due or claimed to be due to them and any priorities in the order of distribution granted to or claimed by them

B The Secretary shall forthwith give written or printed notice of such filing of an account to all corporations or persons whom he knows to be or to claim to be depositors other creditors and in the case of building and loan associations shareholders of the institution at the addresses which respectively appear for them upon the books of the institution or if none appear there at their last known respective addresses Such notice shall also state that unless an exception to the account or to any item therein is filed with the court within thirty days from the date of the filing thereof it will be confirmed absolutely

He shall likewise give notice to any corporation or person who pursuant to the provisions of this act has given the Secretary notice of his claim to the right of execution or attachment against any assets owned by or legally in the custody or possession of the Secretary as receiver of the institution

He shall also advertise such notice in a newspaper or newspapers as provided in this act stating the date upon which he has filed his partial or final account and the fact that all exceptions to the account must be filed within thirty days from the date of the filing of such account

The Secretary shall forthwith file with the court under oath affirmation a statement that he has in the manner provided by this act sent both the notice of his determination to liquidate and the notice of his filing of an account to all corporations or persons entitled thereto whose names appear in the account at the addresses state therein He shall also file the proofs of publication of the advertisements which he has inserted pursuant to the provisions of this act which respectively set forth his determination to liquidate and his filing of an account

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 1007, page 88, line 9 by striking out at the end of the line after the word "prothonotary" the words "[which shall]"

Amend section 1007, page 88 by striking out line 10.

Amend section 1007, page 90, line 4 by striking out at the beginning of the line the bold face bracket before the letter "C."

Amend section 1007, page 90, line 7 by striking out at the end of the line the bold face bracket after the word "papers"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I object to the amendment.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill before you on second reading and now in process of amendment is one of two bills relating to the Banking Department. This is the Department Code. The section which I seek to amend and to which the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, objects, you will find on page 88.

In every closed bank under liquidation the agent in possession, who is the direct representative of the Secretary of Banking, is obliged under the present law within one year from the date when the Department takes possession of a bank, or at some later time, if an extension of time is allowed, to file an account with the Prothonotary of the Court in which the certificate of possession is filed. These accounts, particularly in the large banks that have been closed, become very voluminous documents. Within my own experience in one bank in Philadelphia, one of the earliest of which possession was taken, the account of the agent in possession consisted of three volumes of accounting matter, each twelve or fourteen inches deep.

As the bill is before you it would be necessary for the Prothonotary of the county in which the account is filed to rewrite and record in his books every figure, every item, every word that appears in the account of the agents in possession.

Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, it seems to me that the first duty of the Commonwealth, when it takes possession of a bank, is to expedite the liquidation, so that the depositors of that institution might at an early date obtain a final or at least a partial dividend on account of the deposit which they had in the bank at the time of closing.

Certainly, and more important than making the liquidation as expeditious as possible, is the economy of that liquidation, because every dollar that is taken out of the fund in the possession of the liquidator is taken from the depositors.

I have no means of telling the members of this House what it would cost per line to have the prothonotary record in his books every bit of substance that appears in the account of the liquidator when filed, but I am prepared to stake my reputation here that to impose that cost on the depositors of the institution would be a very unfair bit of procedure. Even in the case of a small bank the cost of recording in the prothonotary's office would not alone be useless but would be expensive, because the amount in possession of the liquidator ultimately in the small bank is just as important in that type of institution as is a greater sum that may be held by the liquidation of a larger bank.

Beside the question of the economies involved we must raise the question of necessity. When the liquidator has completed his account it becomes necessary for him to submit it to the Court for audit, and it has been the practice, and is the practice, again for the sake of economy, that the Judge of the Court in which the certificate of possession is filed takes it upon himself to make the audit of the account. That account becomes a permanent record in the office of the Prothonotary, just like every other court paper becomes a permanent record in the office of the Prothonotary. The final account is docketed in the Prothonontary's office, and there seems to be no greater need to have the Prothonotary record word for word, figure for figure, every item that appears in the account of an agent in possession of a closed bank than is it necessary to have the Prothonotary write in the docket every word and every syllable of a statement of claim or of an affidavit of defense, or any other pleading that is filed.

I submit to you, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that if it is your wish that the liquidation of banks proceed with as great economy as possible, the amendments which I have offered should have your approval. If the amendments do not have your approval you will just add so much more to the administration costs of closed banks and substract a comparable sum from the depositors on the dividends which they hope to receive.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House I have heard a great deal lately from the distinguished gentleman from Philadelphia as to false economy. Some times that which seems to be expensive on the one side on the other side becomes real economy.

The cost of recording in comparison to the amounts involved is very slight, and if that proves a protection to the depositors and to the public in general it should be expended.

In filing accounts in your prothonotarys' offices those accounts in other legal matters are recorded and there is provision for it. Why should an exception be made in reference to the accounts of closed banks? I do not mean to say that every account filed is recorded in the prothonotary's office, but I do say that there are accounts pertaining to insolvency which are recorded. Now, if you file the accounts in the prothonotary's office, as almost every member of the bar knows, the papers become lost in the prothonotary's office very often. It is possible for the members of the bar to withdraw them at times for examination, and that is one of the things we have to contend with from time to time when we have to go and hunt for papers that are supposed to be filed in the prothonotary's office.

Therefore, it seems to me that in a matter that is as important as this to the depositors of a closed bank, the creditors of the bank, the stockholders and the public in general, that these accounts that are filed in the prothonotary's office should take the usual course and should be recorded.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Delaware state to this House any form or kind of account which is actually recorded in the prothonotary's office?

Mr. TURNER. The accounts of insolvent estates are recorded in the prothonotary's office, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Delaware distinguish between docketing and recording?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I certainly do distinguish between docketing and recording.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Delaware mean to say that the accounts of insolvent estates—is that what the gentleman said?

Mr. TURNER. Yes, Mr. Speaker, insolvent estates.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Are actually written into the books of the prothonotary's office?

Mr. TURNER. They are in my county, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Does the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Speaker, say that that is the practice throughout the Commonwealth?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I can't say throughout the Commonwealth.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Delaware able to state to this House what it would cost to record the account of an agent in possession of a bank in the office of the prothonotary, assuming that that account would constitute three volumes of not less than one foot each deep?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, of course that would depend on how many pages were within the three volumes that were one foot deep and how many lines there were on each page.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Delaware state what the cost per line or per word or per page for the recording of such documents in the office of the prothonotary may be?

Mr. TURNER. Fifteen cents a line, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Delaware state to this House that in his county, papers are frequently withdrawn from the prothonotary's office by members of the bar and not returned?

Mr. TURNER. They are, and in yours too.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, so far as Philadelphia county is concerned, I feel that I am perfectly well able to speak for it and make an absolute denial to the gentleman from Delaware that any papers are ever abstracted from that office without receipts being left showing where they can be found.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I merely want to answer what the gentleman from Philadelphia has said by stating that of course we have to leave a receipt for the papers removed from the prothonotary's office.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Delaware has told you that if the account of a liquidator or agent in possession of a closed bank is filed for recording in the office of the Prothonotary of Delaware county a charge at the rate of fifteen cents per line would be made. I dare say that the average number of lines on these accounts which I have seen would be probably twenty. In many of the accounts that I have seen involving closed banks in Philadelphia the pages involved into the thousands. The one that I mentioned to you a little while ago, constituting three volumes, each not less than one foot deep, doubtlessly ran into three thousand or probaly four thousand sheets. You can make the multiplication yourselves. In the case of the Aldine Trust Company in Philadelphia, although I have no personal knowledge of the size of the account, I have reason to imagine that there doubtlessly were six volumes of at least a foot deep. You can make the multiplication yourselves, and whether or not you note your approval of these amendments depends the question of whether you want liquidations of banks to go on economically or not economically.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia state how much was involved in the account of the Aldine Trust Company?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, nine or ten million dollars.

Mr. TURNER. And how much, Mr. Speaker, was involved in the account of the Bankers Trust Company?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Many times more, Mr. Speaker. I can not give you the exact amount.

Mr. TURNER. At least forty or fifty million dollars, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, anything I might say would be a guess, but very much more than the Aldine Trust Company.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Sterling and Mr. Conner and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

Article X, sections 1008 to 1012 inclusive, were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 1008 Exceptions to Account A Any corporation or person who is or who claims to be a depositor other creditor or shareholder of an institution or who has given to the Secretary notice of his claim to the right of execution or

attachment against any assets owned by or legally in the custody of the Secretary as receiver of an institution or who assets any other type of claim against an institution may within thirty days after the filing of an account by the Secretary file in the court specific exceptions in writing under oath or affirmation to such account or to any item therein

Notice of any exception to an individual item in an account shall forthwith be personally served upon or sent by registered mail to the corporation or person whose claim is thus objected to or his counsel and also the Secretary or the deputy receiver managing the affairs of the particular institution or the counsel of either Affidavit of the serving or sending of such notice shall forthwith be filed with the court

B Whenever an exception is filed to any expenditure made by the Secretary as an expense of administration the Secretary shall keep an accurate record of the salaries and other expenses exclusive of counsel fees properly incurred by him in the contesting of such exception If the exception is overruled and the expenditure is sustained the court may in its discretion assess such expenses and salaries together with the regular costs provided by law upon the depositor other creditor or shareholder filing such exception

Section 1009 Adjudication of Rejected Claims and Exceptions to Account A If any claim has been rejected by the Secretary or any exception has been filed to the account or to any item thereof the court shall as soon as expedient after the expiration of the period for the filing of exceptions to the account fix a date for hearing in court arguments on all rejected claims and all exceptions to the account or to any item thereof

The Secretary shall give notice of such hearing to all corporations or persons whose claims have been rejected by the Secretary or objected to in the manner provided by this act He shall likewise give notice to all corporations or persons who have filed exceptions to the account or to any item thereof Such notice shall set forth in so far as possible the reasons for the rejection of the claim or the nature of the exception to the item of the account and shall state that all parties whose claims are rejected or objected to must appear in court upon the date fixed by the court to prove their claims or they will be bound by the ex parte decision of the court

B The court in which the account is filed shall itself hear arguments upon any rejected claim or upon any exception to an account or to any exception to an account or to any item thereof upon the date fixed by it for this purpose The court shall itself decide without delay all matters in controversy If any party does not appear in court on the day fixed the court shall conduct the hearing ex parte and shall render its decision upon the merits as they appear after such hearing

Section 1010 Confirmation of Account Distribution of Dividends A If the Secretary has approved all depositors' claims or in the case of building and loan associations all shareholders' claims as presented by them pursuant to the provisions of this act or if not presented as they appear upon the books or other records of the institution and if no exception has been filed to an account or to any item thereof within thirty days after the filing of such account by the Secretary the court shall confirm the account absolutely If any funds are available for distribution the Secretary shall then declare and pay out of such funds a partial or a final dividend according to the priorities established by law

If the Secretary has rejected any such deposit or claim or if any such exception has been filed the court shall confirm the account as to all other matters and claims The Secretary may then declare and pay out of the funds available for distribution if any dividend according to the priorities established by law The dividend shall be calculated as if all deposits and other claims were valid and approved The Secretary before paying any such dividend shall set apart the proportion of such dividend which would be properly apportionable to any claim which has been rejected by the Secretary or to which an exception has been filed if the amount and the priority claimed were sustained by the court If any such claim shall be determined by the court to be valid the Secretary shall pay to the corporation or person entitled thereto the dividend which has been set apart in the manner provided by this section If any such claim shall be determined by the court to be invalid the dividend which has been set apart in the manner provided by this section shall be distributed in the order of the priorities established by law to those whose claims have been approved by the court

B The confirmation of any account after the adjudication of all claims therein which have been rejected by the Secretary or to which exceptions have been filed and of all other exceptions to such account shall be conclusive as to all matters therein Except as otherwise provided in this act no claim of any depositor or other creditor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder shall be valid if not listed and approved in the first account which has been filed

The confirmation of the final account and distribution thereunder shall discharge the Secretary the deputy receiver any other employe and the legal counsel as well as the surety for any of them from all further civil liability for any act done in his official capacity as receiver deputy receiver employe or legal counsel of the institution

Section 1011 Order of Preference in Distribution A The following shall be the order followed by the Secretary in the distribution pursuant to the provisions of this act of the assets of any institution with the exception of a building and loan association which he as receiver is liquidating

First Any expenditure made by the Secretary as receiver which under the provisions of this act is to be paid out of the assets of the institution

Second Any fee or other debt owing to the Department for examinations or other services rendered or penalties incurred prior to the taking of possession by the Secretary as receiver any deposit or other claim of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and any other claim which is given a preference by law

Third Any deposit and any interest due thereon which has been or according to the by-laws or rules and regulations of the institution should have been credited to such deposit prior to the date of the taking of possession of the institution by the Secretary as receiver whether subject to withdrawal by check or by any other method not requiring notice or to withdrawal only after notice or after the expiration of a fixed period whether or not such notice has been given or such period has expired at the date of distribution any holder of a certified check drawn on the institution the claim of any holder of a certificate of deposit of the institution which evidences an actual deposit of moneys in such institution and any interest which may be due thereon whether such certificate of deposit is payable upon demand or is payable only after notice or after the expiration of a fixed period whether or not such notice has been given or such period has expired at the date of distribution the claim of any holder of a check or draft of the institution which has been given in exchange for or in payment of a check or draft drawn upon such institution by a depositor therein or which has otherwise been charged to the account of a depositor therein provided that the amount of such check or draft does not exceed the balance to the credit of such depositor or which has been given in exchange for cash or for any check or draft the proceeds of which have been received by the institution any claim for cash or for any check or draft the proceeds of which have been received by the institution which was delivered to the commercial department of such institution as fiduciary either for transmission or for any purpose other than as a deposit irrespective of whether all or part of such cash or the funds realized from such check or draft has been mingled with the assets of such institution

Fourth Any claim for the amount of any deficiency in the funds property or investments of an estate of which the institution was fiduciary or any surcharge with respect to such estate which is found to be done by the court in which the account for such estate is filed and any claim of a creditor of the institution not listed under any other category in this section

Fifth Any part of the amounts paid by shareholders after an assessment upon them by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act which has proved unnecessary to pay in full all depositors or other creditors of the institution such payments are to be made pro rata up to the respective amounts paid by each shareholder This clause shall not be construed to refer to payments made by shareholders on account of unpaid subscriptions to shares

Sixth Any moneys of the institution which still remain in the hands of the Secretary shall be paid to shareholders in proportion to the number of shares held by them respectively minus any amounts still owing by them on the assessment made by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act or on unpaid subscriptions to shares

Seventh Any unliquidated assets to trustees for shareholders appointed pursuant to the provisions of this act

B The following shall be the order and preference followed by the Secretary in the distribution pursuant to the provisions of this act of the assets of any building and loan association the affairs of which he as receiver is liquidating

First Any expenditure made by the Secretary as receiver which under the provisions of this act is to be paid out of the assets of the institution

Second Any fee or other debt owing to the Department for examinations or other services rendered or penalties incurred prior to the taking of possession by the Secretary as receiver any other claim of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and any other claim which is given a preference by law

Third Any claim of a creditor of the association other than the claim of a shareholder arising from his ownership of shares

Fourth Any claim of a shareholder arising from his ownership of shares whether such shares be installment full-paid prepaid matured or any other type The amount of the claim arising from each share shall be the amount actually paid in on account of such share less any amount lawfully deductible therefrom by the association except in the case of a lawfully and properly matured share in which case the amount of the claim shall be the actual par value of the share less any payment received on account thereof from the association and less any other amount lawfully deductible therefrom by the association

C Every claim enumerated above shall have the same rank and priority as every other claim in the same numbered paragraph regardless of the order in which such claims are enumerated

D All claims provided for in this section shall be construed to refer only to claims presented to the Secretary and approved by the court in accordance with the provisions of this act

Section 1012 Liquidation of Balance by Trustees Except in the case of a building and loan association the Secretary shall dispose in the following manner of any unliquidated assets of an institution of which he was receiver which are still in his possession after the filing and confirmation of his final account the payment in full of the claims of all depositors creditors and other claimants which have been approved by the court the return of shareholders pro rata of any amounts paid by them pursuant to an assessment made by the Secretary under the provisions of this act which have proved unnecessary to pay in full the duly presented and approved claims of depositors and other creditors and the distribution to shareholders of any cash balance remaining thereafter

The Secretary shall call a meeting of all the shareholders of the institution by giving them written notice at least thirty days before the day fixed for the meeting At such meeting the shareholders shall elect by ballot a trustee or trustees who sholl complete the liquidation A majority of the shares present in person or by proxy shall be necessary to elect such trustee or trustees The Secretary shall file one copy of the proceedings of such shareholders' meeting in his office and one in the office of the prothonotary Both copies shall be prepared by him under oath or affirmation

If no trustee is elected in this manner on the day designated the Secretary shall petition the court in which the certificate of possession is filed for the appointment of a trustee or trustees

The trustee or trustees who are thus elected by the shareholders or appointed by the court shall give bond to the Commonwealth in such amount wtih such surety and under such conditions as the court may direct The Secretary shall then transfer to such trustee or trustees all the assets of the institution which are still in his possession

After such transfer by the Secretary to a trustee or trustees for the benefit of the shareholders the institution shall have no corporate powers or privileges whatsoever The trustee or trustees shall not succeed to any of its powers or privileges except such as shall be necessary to the liquidation of the remaining assets which have been transfered to such trustee or trustees by the Secretary

Article X, section 1013 was read as follows:

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Raub,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2090 (Senate Bill No. 561), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws one hundred fifty-five) entitled "An act regulating the letting of certain contracts for the erection construction and alteration of public buildings" providing that in such cases separate contracts shall be awarded for the structural steel work

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, is there any person in this House who can explain the purpose of this bill?

The SPEAKER. This is a Senate bill. Is there any one in the House who will explain it for the benefit of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hough?

Mr. RAUB. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill and the next succeeding four bills all pertain to the same subject, except that they have in one instance the State and in each of the other instances the various municipalities. They have in view the awarding of contracts for steel work on State contracts, city contracts and other municipal contracts in separate bids, apart from the general contract.

There has crept into the awarding of general contracts in the past few years the practice whereby the general contractor after receiving the general contract, which is made up and submitted in the original instance by the sub-contractors, on figures received from the sub-contractors, attempts to peddle the sub-contract bids by going to the sub-contractor and advising him that if he will strike off of his bid a thousand or five thousand dollars, depending on the size of the contract, he will be awarded the sub-contract. If he does not do that, of course some other sub-contractor will get the award. This has worked out to the detriment of honest steel erectors and steel people, in that they have suffered these losses in the peddling of the sub-contracts and the general contractors have gained to that extent.

These bills provide that in State contracts and other municipal contracts the contract for the steel work shall be by separate bid and not figured in the general contract bid, the same as the plumbing, the painting and electrical bids are in the award.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the explanation of the gentleman from Northampton is true so far as it pertains to certain portion of the general contractors' business. However, you get to a place then where no person would be directly responsible. In other words, you eliminate the general contractor. Why not draft a bill whereby you would have no general contractor? Understand now, if you take the steel bids away from the general contractor he is at the mercy of all of the steel men, and you would be put in a position where you would eliminate any responsible person you might have.

I ask the members to vote this bill down.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. YEAKEL. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the purpose of putting this bill on the postponed calendar?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Yeakel, desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg?

Mr. YEAKEL. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. YEAKEL. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, his purpose in moving to put this bill on the postponed calendar?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, some questions have just arisen as to some of the provisions of this bill, and in order to afford an opportunity to study these provisions it was thought best to place it on the postponed calendar.

Mr. YEAKEL. Mr. Speaker, I have some amendments to offer to this bill at this time.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I understand that the gentleman from Bucks has some amendments to offer and pending the offering of those amendments I withdraw my motion.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. YEAKEL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. YEAKEL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 1, by inserting after the word "To" the following: "further."

Amend title, page 1, line 1, by striking out the word "by" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "of."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. YEAKEL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Amend section 3, page 2, line 12, by striking out the word "fifty" and insert in lieu thereof: "twenty-five dollars."

Amend section 3, page 2, line 13, by striking out the figure "(50)" and insert in lieu thereof: "($25) which shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of the county."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2309 (Senate Bill No. 426), entitled:

An Act prescribing the filing fees for the filing of nomination petitions and nomination papers for candidates at any primary, general, special or municipal election, by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and by the county commissioners in the several counties of this Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SURFACE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill provides for fees for filing petitions for nominations. It is another means of making it harder for the poor man to get into public service in an elective office, and I think nothing more need be said than to call the attention of the members of the House to that fact. It is a further tax on the poor man who aspires to be a candidate for office.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to add briefly to what the gentleman from Snyder, Mr. Surface, has said.

I want to call the attention of the members of the House as to just how drastic this bill is. It provides when you file for a State wide office, on nomination petition, you must pay a filing fee of one hundred dollars, for Congressmen seventy-five dollars, for State Senator fifty dollars and for members of the Legislature thirty dollars.

I have made a brief computation that with an ordinary State wide election with seven State wide candidates, and Congressmen and Assemblymen, it will cost the party twelve thousand dollars to put up a State ticket, and in a presidential year, with presidential electors, it will cost thirty-six hundred dollars more.

The passage of this bill will make politics the exclusive playground of the rich man and it will make it impossible for minority parties to name candidates at all.

I sincerely trust that the members of this House will vote this bill down by a large majority.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I believe that every member of this House realizes that elections are now expensive enough. I think all of us, at least in our county, are compelled to pay an entrance fee. Secondly, we have to pay our assessments, and every member of this House knows how expensive campaigns have become in recent years. I think that we should not add to that burden. As has been said before, it would make the political field a sort of a rich man's paradise. I feel that the burdens are now heavy enough upon candidates and that this bill should be voted down.

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. WAY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1813, entitled:

An Act establishing as State highways all existing township roads in townships of the second class which have not heretofore been established as State highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions; authorizing the Secretary of Highways under certain conditions to petition the Court of Quarter Sessions to vacate certain of said roads; and making an appropriation out of the Motor License Fund.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SURFACE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that I should say something in behalf of this bill.

Last week a weekly paper circulating throughout the rural districts made the statement that in all of the time we have been here we have not done a thing to reduce local taxes. If that be true it is just too bad for us. If it be not true then let some one show me where the bills are that we have passed that are for the purpose of reducing local taxes.

If you should ask your friends back home what do they most desire that you do for them during this session, those of you who come from the rural districts would have one answer. It would be, reduce taxes. That is the paramount idea that they have in their minds now.

What did we promise when we were planning and working through our campaigns? That we would do something to reduce taxes. Have we done so? Not that you can feel it and not that you can see it.

This bill plans to take the fifty-three thousand miles of second-class township roads from the shoulders of the taxpayers and that the expense of maintenance be handled by the Highway Department. This should reduce the road taxes of the people back home. It is something exceedingly and highly meritorious, because it is the only bill that I have yet seen, beside my three bills that slumber so peacefully in the Committee on Ways and Means of the House, two of them, each respectively, propose to reduce the taxes for school purposes on real estate to four mills and to reduce the taxes on real estate for road purposes to four mills and not over, and the other bill the income tax of two per cent.

Some of these times we will awaken, Mr. Speaker, and realize that the income tax bill is a mighty righteous and mighty desirable bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Snyder will confine his remarks to the bill before the House.

Mr. SURFACE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have only this yet to say: this bill is planned definitely to take the burden of taxation from the shoulders of the rural taxpayers.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 747

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 28, 1933.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith without my approval, House Bill No. 747, Printer's No. 172, entitled "An Act to amend section five hundred and three of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws three hundred forty-three) entitled 'An act relating to the finances of the State government providing for the settlement assessment collection and lien of taxes bonus and all other accounts due the Commonwealth the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing pentalties affecting every department board commission and officer of the State government every political subdivision of the State and certain officers of such subdivisions every person association and corporation required to pay assess or collect taxes or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth' as amended providing for appeals from refusals of the Board of Finance and Revenue to allow refunds."

This bill would permit an appeal to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County from the refusal of the Board of Finance and Revenue, after hearing, to refund moneys paid to the Commonwealth, or to remit penalties imposed for failure to file a tax report within the time specified by law.

Under existing law the action of the Board in refusing to allow refunds or to remit penalties is final

Authority to make refunds of moneys paid to the Commonwealth was originally granted to a board composed of the Auditor General, State Treasurer, and Attorney General by the Act of April 8, 1869 P. L. 19. Since then disallowances of refunds by that board and its successor, the Board of Finance and Revenue, have not been subject to appeal to the courts. This practice has operated satisfactorily and there is no compelling reason why it should now be changed.

The present law affords to any taxpayer or other debtor to the Commonwealth an opportunity to appeal to the courts prior to payment of his obligation to the Commonwealth. This bill would provide a duplicate and unnecessary remedy in permitting another appeal after payment. It would thereby encourage litigation and uselessly burden the courts of the Commonwealth.

There is no good reason why an appeal should be necessary from the discretionary action of the Board in refusing to remit penalties imposed for failure to file tax reports within the time provided for by law. These penalties are imposed because of the failure of the taxpayer to comply with express provisions of law. Under the circumstances he should have no remedy beyond that now afforded him.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1119

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 28, 1933.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the House of Representatives and Senate recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 1119, Printer's No. 140, for the purpose of further consideration.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 1099

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 1, 1933.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1099, Printer's No. 935, entitled "An Act authorizing counties cities boroughs townships of the first and second class and school district to issue and sell bonds for certain purposes and for a certain period of time providing for a trust fund and a sinking fund for the payment thereof and defining the duties of the officers and governing bodies of the said municipalities in relation to said funds and fixing a penalty for the violation

This bill would authorize municipalities during the next five years to borrow for current expenses against certian delinquent taxes on real estate and to issue bonds maturing thereof," in not more than ten years for that purpose.

Senate Bill No. 498 which has been passed by the Legislature, but has been recalled for amendment, contains practically the same provisions as this bill. However, parts of that bill are in slightly better form than the corresponding provisions of this one. Therefore, I expect to sign Senate Bill No. 498 when it reaches my desk, and there will be no necessity for the present bill.
